Terra Nova Puts Into a New Zealand Port With Long-Awaited Information.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Daily News prints a central news dispatch from Akaroa, New Zealand, dated April 1, 12:30 a.m., which says the Terra Nova, Capt. R. F. Scott's Antarctic ship, arrived there early Monday morning and anchored. She did not bring Capt. Scott nor any members of the expedition, but fetched a despatch message from the exploration base at McMurdo Sound, to the effect that he would continue another winter in the Antarctic to continue and complete his work.

Apart from the message the latest received from Capt. Scott at the base, was that on January 1, he was 150 miles from the South Pole and advancing.

THE CITY. Maj. Henry T. Lee, president of the Public Service Commission and a member of the Los Angeles, is now dead at his home in the home following an attack of pneumonia.

The Southern California Association is in state of a factitious election fight which culminated Saturday in the unanimous adoption of a resolution to postpone the election. Dr. Ray Hobson of this city.

A brief of four days appeared to the public yesterday for authorizing the election of a new member of the Southern California Association which would be of assistance in the investigation into the affairs of the manager of a Pasadena branch of a lumber company as expected to be in the hands of the Southern California Association.

MANEUVERS FOR BATTLE GROUND

Orozco Must Fight Federals at Least Once More.

He Will Have to Face Modern Artillery This Time.

Federals Are Reorganizing Shattered Columns.

(From the Special War Correspondent of The Times)

TORMEON (Mex.) March 27.—Marching steadily southward from Chihuahua on his way to Mexico City, Pancho Orozco, chief of the anti-Madero revolution in Mexico, must fight at least one more battle with the loyal troops before he can enter the capital. Will this battle occur at Torreon or at the gates of the capital?

Last Sunday's battle at Escalon proved, without doubt, that Orozco's forces, on account of their overwhelming numerical superiority over the Federals, are more than a match for them in a mountainous country, where the Federal artillery cannot maneuver to advantage. But, for 200 miles south of Escalon there stretch immense plains, bare of vegetation, ideal country for the more disciplined government troops, with their gasoline-fueled Saint Chamounix and Schneider three and four-inch guns, can stay the enemy at a range of three miles, long before the insurgents can get within effective firing distance with their inferior armament.

Possibly Orozco does not intend to risk the revolution to an engagement under such unfavorable conditions. The Federals, whose column was broken and demoralized in last week's battle, have retreated to Torreon, where they await reinforcements from Mexico City, and it would be perfectly feasible for Orozco to attack 2000 men to the vicinity of Torreon.

To prevent the Federals from holding the Federals there by cutting the railroad and telegraph lines, while the main body of the revolutionists, deviating its march eastward or westward, avoids an engagement and marches on the capital, between which there is no road. There, there is no body of loyal troops that could easily meet the resistance to the rebel advance.

OROZCO IS UNPOPULAR.

There is no question whatsoever as to the unpopularity of Orozco throughout the country. His treasonable act in having turned against Madero, with the military material confided to him for a very different purpose, has shown him in his true colors to the Mexican people who, up to last January, held him in the highest esteem as a patriot and a friend of the people. It is generally understood now that Orozco is but a puppet in the hands of the reactionaries and, as such he commands no admiration or respect.

For this reason Orozco will receive very little assistance from the inhabitants of the region which he would perform traverse between Torreon and Mexico City. He will have on his side only the feelings and sympathies of 10,000 indigent men, who at any moment are liable to mutiny against the hardships to which they will necessarily be exposed in crossing an unknown country, which at the best has never been able to provide food for its own sparse population. Should Orozco manage to outmaneuver the Federals in the manner referred to, he would have no means of replenishing his

KNOX REACHES PORTO RICO; FURE OVER FREE SUGAR.

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN JUAN (P. R.) March 21.—Secretary Knox touched American soil again for the first time in a month. All the streets of San Juan were decorated elaborately with the Stars and Stripes.

The visit of the Secretary to Porto Rico is one of cordial and amicable with the progress of the House of Delegates of the Porto Rican citizenship measure. Gov. Colton went aboard and greeted Mr. Knox and the party who ashore an hour later. Mr. Knox was welcomed by the Mayor, members of the Executive Council and many prominent persons and was escorted by the crack Porto Rican regiment to the Governor's residence.

The secretary reviewed the troops this afternoon and attended a dinner and reception given tonight by the Governor and Miss Colton.

The Washington will sail for Port tomorrow.

Secretary Knox found Porto Rico in a furor over the possible passage by the American Congress of the free sugar bill. A mass meeting this afternoon a resolution of protest was adopted, and a committee presented a copy to the Secretary privately. The subject was not mentioned to Mr. Knox publicly, lest it should embarrass a friendly relation with the House of Delegates, who were given a formal luncheon at which speeches were made in an appeal to the American people.

Vicente Balbas, editor of the El Heraldo Espanol, declared, amid cheers: "We are here, not to appeal for, but to demand, full compliance with the solemn contract recognized during the profits of a decade, which have been invested in improvements."

Manuel Roxy, former speaker of the House of Delegates, presided at the luncheon and was the leader of the Republican party, and members of the Executive Council, said:

"The representatives of parties by their single purpose of direct attention to the industries of Porto Rico have chosen the medium of the press as it is the only true democratic power in a government like the United States."

At this moment orders have been issued to the artillery and infantry to make ready to move at a moment's notice. As the forces from Mexico City are hourly expected to arrive here, it is probable that the movement will be made with the object of meeting Orozco on the plains to the north of this city.

The train was stopped by rocks on the track and the attackers opened fire from both sides. At the volley the engineer, a Mexican, fell dead.

The American passengers were unharmed. The conductor, C. F. Lossing, was struck on the head with a gun and badly hurt.

After the looters had ridden away the freight train approached from the north and unlooted the coaches back to Mexico City.

The American passengers were unharmed. The conductor, C. F. Lossing, was struck on the head with a gun and badly hurt.

The dinner attended by Secretary Knox tonight was a small affair, no speeches were made.

FEDERAL FORCES PUSHING NORTH.

FLOWER OF MADEIRO'S ARMY IS TO MEET OROZCO.

One Thousand Infantry and Sixteen Cannon Leave Torreon, and Behind Them Are Gen. Huerta and Strong Command — Newspaper Men Threatened With Death.

(By DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) TORREON (Mex.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch] Absolutely no reliable information as to the present state of affairs around Jimenez has reached this city for the four days. Officially it is reported that Gen. Tracy Aubert, in command of Francisco Villa's forces, who is a smattering of military, has taken Jimenez, defeating Orozco, who, out of ammunition, is said to have retreated northward towards Chihuahua, where he hopes to recuperate his losses and reorganize his army. On the other hand, reports from no recognized sources, as well as dispatches received by local papers via El Paso, and the revolutionary lines, make it appear that Aubert and Villa were defeated by Orozco, who has taken Jimenez, defeating Orozco, who, out of ammunition, is said to have retreated northward towards Chihuahua, where he hopes to recuperate his losses and reorganize his army. According to the reports, the Federals were established under the Root policy ten years ago, cannot fail to be better than a plan of mere retrenchment formulated by these who are not military experts.

One thousand men of the War Department believe, has been accomplished by the discussion over the retrenchment programme undertaken in Congress. It is declared to be a concentration of the public interest in the army and its welfare—a matter that ought to show practical results in the end.

are bothered by the "deals" that may take place between Senators as result of the local interests involved in the plan of increasing the efficiency of the army by concentrating it at important points and isolating those that have lost their usefulness. With in a day or so, it was learned today, the army reorganization plan with which the War College has been laboring will be submitted to the Secretary of War. This plan will be carefully guarded until it has been thoroughly discussed by the Secretary of War and his trusted officers. Then it will be submitted to Congress. It is declared that a reorganization plan of economy based on increased efficiency drafted by experts whose efforts have been concentrated since the general staff and War College were established under the Root policy ten years ago, cannot fail to be better than a plan of mere retrenchment formulated by these who are not military experts.

INSURRECTION GROWS THROUGH TWO STATES.

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, March 31.—Dispatches to the Department of State tonight, from the American Embassy in Mexico City reported the insurrection movement in Puebla and Vera Cruz as gaining, and said there was considerable alarm in Mexico City.

Trains are being held up by Zapatas and other insurgents and in one instance an engineer was killed.

The activities of Zapatas in Puebla and Vera Cruz leads some observers to believe that a rebel movement is being directed to the taking of the city of Vera Cruz with the object of providing a rebel controlled port for the importation of arms and munitions.

At the date of writing, Gen. Telles of the Federal army is about to leave for the North with sixteen cannon and over 1000 infantry. Immediately Gen. Huerta, whose forces are considered according to Mexico City reports. This army, by far the most efficient and numerous fighting machine gotten together by the Mexican government during the present revolution, will be under command of Gen. Huerta, who claims to have information to the effect that Aubert and Villa have taken Huerta's forces and are surrounded by Orozco, who has taken Jimenez, and are marching to Mexico City, being due at Torreon within Principals Are Both Active in Portland Society.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a romance which has thrived upon golf links, polo grounds and country club hunt courses, Chester Griffin Murphy, famous in western intercollegiate annals as Stanford's wonderful quarterback of a decade ago, has at last lost a goal to Cupid.

That "Cheat" Murphy, as known to western athletes during his Cardinal days, is about to end his twelve years of post-Stanford bachelorhood, became known when Miss Angela M. Kinney, daughter of a Wyoming capitalist, announced her engagement to him at a tea at the home of her sister, Mrs. James A. Dougherty, in Portland. The bride-to-be is daughter of Timothy Kinney, prominent in Wyoming and Utah, and a sister-in-law of Charles H. Whitley, of Salt Lake City, one of the Guggenheim representatives of the West.

Miss Kinney is one of the most popular members of the "outdoor set" in the northern city. She is a member of the Waverly Golf Club, Portland Hunt Club and the Multnomah Athletic Club.

Murphy is a member of these same clubs, and thereby hangs the thread of the courtship.

First Aid to a Rider Injured By An Auto in Stockton, Rendered by Companions.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

STOCKTON (Cal.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While riding on a motorcycle to this city from Waterloo, last night, Frank Stephenson, of Ripon, was struck by an automobile and painfully injured. The autoists did not stop. Perry and L. Buchanan, also on motorcycles, were riding with Stephenson, and the former placed Stephenson on his motorcycle and brought him to the corner of Market and California streets. At that point they found they could not carry him longer on account of his weakness and telephoned for the police patrol. The victim will recover.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

STOCKTON (Cal.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The petition for the parole of G. Plaza, the Lodi keeper, serving a six-month's sentence for the County Jail for receiving stolen property, has been denied. Friends of the man sought his release because of the illness of his wife, and the recent death of a child, but Dist.-Atty. Fols, in speaking of the denial, said that he had never granted the parole of a man serving time for a dishonest act, and that unless he was granted it, he would not have been sent home. Plaza's case had been charged with a felony, but was allowed to plead guilty of misdemeanor.

VALLEY TEACHERS MEET.

Principal of the San Jose High School Tells the Educators About the Text-Book Law.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

STOCKTON (Cal.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The San Joaquin Valley School-masters Association held a meeting and a banquet last evening.

Lewis D. Avery, principal of the San Jose High School, was the guest of honor. He spoke on the free text-book bill, which was recently passed by the Legislature. The speaker took up the pros and cons of the question, showing the advantages and disadvantages of the bill. Mr. Avery stated the cost of text-books would be reduced from 50 to 30 per cent by the amendment.

Among the others who spoke were Principal of the Grammar School, the local High School; Luke W. Pearce, Assemblyman E. H. McGowen, and John R. Williams. About sixty school-teachers of San Joaquin and the surrounding counties, were in attendance at the meeting.

PLANT A MEMORIAL OAK.

The People of San Jose Pay a Fine Tribute to a Man Who Believes in Beautifying the Cities.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN JOSE, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saratoga honored the Rev. Edwin Steiner Williams, as a man of the year. David G. Bell, chairman of committee in charge of tree planting, turned over a sturdy oak to be planted as a tribute to the esteem in which the Rev. Mr. Williams is held in the community.

Thirteen years ago Dr. Williams founded the Saratoga blossom festival. The occasion has always had a religious significance, being a sort of thanksgiving for bounteous crops and to-day the exercises were partly of a religious order. Bell presented an oration of Mr. Williams' worth to the community, and was followed by the Rev. A. Kerr, president of the day, who called attention to the necessity of beautifying public places. The Rev. W. A. McCausland offered a prayer of dedication and consecration. Mr. Kerr then placed the first spade of earth and was followed by a score of others, each helping to heap the earth about the young tree.

STANDARD OIL PLANT BURNS.

MANILA, April 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Standard Oil Company's main storage plant here has been destroyed by fire. Three large petroleum warehouses and one for the storage of gasoline were burned. The fire started early today and continued throughout the night. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

ABERDEEN (Wash.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The crisis in the lumber strike here and at Houqua and Raymond will be reached tomorrow. Mills in all three towns will reopen, guarded by police and armed citizens. I.W.W. reinforcements are pouring in from Portland, Seattle and Spokane, and the strikers and their supporters openly declare they will prevent the reopening of the mills. Both sides realize that the crucial test is at hand.

"Tomorrow is April Fool's Day, let's fool 'em." This was the slogan of 1500 strikers—men, women and children—who joined in a monster parade through the principal streets of this city this afternoon. The "fooling" is intended by the strikers, will be done tomorrow morning when an effort will be made to reopen the S. E. Slade mills.

After holding the parade the strikers, with their wives and children, paraded to Electric Park, where they were joined by 500 strikers from Houqua, who also had held a parade. Many speeches were made by the Aberdeen strike leaders.

The police tonight have secured the information that 1000 strikers will confront the 200-citizen special police, to be on guard during the strike tomorrow morning. The crisis will be reached then. More deputes have been added to the force.

The Mayor and City Council met this afternoon to discuss the situation.

They agreed that a firm stand must be made tomorrow. Chief of Police L. D. Templeman declared tonight he would guarantee protection to all men who wanted to work, and that the business families would be also protected from the strikers.

Crowds of 1,000 men, part of whom will be armed with shotguns and part mounted, and all carrying clubs and some kind of guns, was thoroughly organized, in addition to which had been greatly increased during the last two days. Houqua citizens demand that law and order be maintained and in order to do this, have organized a citizen police.

According to the report President Taft carried every county in the Ninth Congressional district which is the home of Speaker Champ Clark. He also carried Randolph County in the Second District and Manitowoc and Oconto counties in the Eighth District and Vernon county, in the Fifteenth District. The outcome materially increased the probability that President Taft's friends will control the State convention in Missouri despite the opposition of Gov. The outcome in the primaries in Vermont yesterday virtually assure President Taft of a solid delegation at Chicago from that State.

NEW SENATORS
ENLARGE BODY.Ninety-four Members in the Upper House.National Monetary Commission Out of Existence.Expect House to Pass Wool Revision Bill Today.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Four Senators from the two new States of Arizona and New Mexico, this week will enlarge the membership of the upper branch of Congress to ninety-four. The new men, all lawyers, are Marcus Aurelius Smith of Tucson, Henry F. Ashurst of Prescott, Ariz. Democrats, who will be sworn in at the bar of the Senate tomorrow afternoon, and Thomas Catron of Santa Fe and Albert Bacon Fall of Three Rivers, N. M. Republicans, who may not arrive from New Mexico in time for tomorrow.

Senators-elect Smith and Catron already have served as delegates in Congress. Mr. Fall was an associate justice of the Territorial Supreme Court under President Cleveland, but disagreed with his party in that regime and since then has been an independent. Senator-elect Ashurst has been a State Senator. He is 60.

These four new Senators will change the political strength of the Senate to consist of forty-one Republicans and forty-three Democrats. One Senator-elect from Colorado is absent.

The new members will draw lots to determine which shall serve the long term, and which the short term. Under this legislative lottery two of the Senators will serve until 1917, and two until 1915.

The National Monetary Commission went out of existence today. Headed by former Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, the commission made an exhaustive investigation of the monetary situation here and abroad and recommended a resolution to develop the clearinghouse idea into a national reserve association.

The House tomorrow probably will pass the wool tariff bill as framed by the Democratic leaders, and the measure will join the accompaniment of tariff revision bills in the Senate, where the only tariff revision so far has been in hearings before the Finance Committee. That committee will begin hearing tomorrow on sugar bills.

Democratic Leader Underwood of the House is not disposed to bring in any more revision bills unless the Senate indicates a probability of favorable action on those already pending.

She Makes a Strong Appeal for Votes for the Ladies at a Meeting in Washington.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Mrs. Belva Lockwood, twice a candidate for President of the United States, was the central figure tonight at a mass meeting in the interest of the woman suffrage campaign in Wisconsin, Kansas, Oregon and Ohio.

Standing before portraits of Miss Susan B. Anthony and Miss Elizabeth Cady Stanton, with whom she saw almost the beginning of the suffrage movement, the venerable woman, who is active despite her more than four score years, made a strong appeal for votes for women. Others who spoke were Representatives Knowland of California; Mondell of Wyoming; Buckner of Colorado and French of Idaho; Mrs. Clara B. Colby of Oregon; Mrs. Edward T. Taylor of Colorado, and Miss Laura Burdette of Senator Poindexter of Washington, presiding.

Some whose names were on the programme for addresses, but who did not appear, were Senators Smoot of Utah; Borah of Idaho and Works of California, and Representatives La Follett of Washington and Howell of Utah.

IDLENESS OF THE MINERS
MEANS LOSS OF MILLIONS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—No anthracite or bituminous coal will be taken from the mines tomorrow by union miners as a result of the suspension which went into effect at midnight tonight, due to wage troubles.

More than 400,000 miners, about 150,000 in the anthracite field, will take vacation which will last only one week. Different from a strike the miners will leave pump men and others at work to protect the mines from flooding or other trouble due to a shutdown of the plants.

The bituminous miners will be out only long enough for a strike agreement to be reached in Cleveland, to be ratified by the miners by a referendum vote and it is believed the agreement will be sanctioned by a large majority of the men.

The suspension in the anthracite field will be longer as an agreement has yet been reached. Negotiations will be resumed April 16.

Ballots for the referendum vote by the bituminous miners, it is said, will be sent out of the national mines headquarter here. All will require more than two weeks to take the miners and some time to canvass it. The bituminous miners are not expected to return work much under a month.

It is believed the anthracite convention will be settled in Philadelphia and operators will get together in Philadelphia. It is thought the anthracite forces will compromise on virtually the same terms as have been agreed to by the bituminous industry.

The suspension does not affect the miners with whom the union is not strong there as it is in the north. The mines of Wyoming, Washington, Colorado and Montana also will not be affected because the union is not strong in those districts as yet.

The annual convention of district No. 5 (Pittsburgh district) United Mine Workers of America, will be held in Wisconsin, probably in Milwaukee, president Francis F. Feacham, president of the local miners, is authority for the statement that the convention will be asked to authorize a resumption of operations in the Pittsburgh district pending ratification of the Cleveland settlement.

It is said the miners will lose $1,000,000 every day they remain out and that the suspension will cause a loss in coal production to the country of nearly $6,000,000 a month.

No formal order was issued by President White for the miners to leave work, as the suspension was automatic, since the miners have no agreement for work after midnight tonight when the contract made two years ago, expired. No strike is expected at any of the mines.

NO DISORDER REPORTED.

SITUATION IN PENNSYLVANIA.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Reports from all sections of the anthracite region indicate there will be no arrangements to resume operations at the principal mines pending the negotiations for a new working agreement, which will be resumed April 10.

Meetings of all the locals of the United Mine Workers in the region were held today and officers instructed the men to remain away from the collieries and warned them of the danger of congregating in groups.

The operators of the principal collieries in the Lackawanna region declared emphatically today they would make no effort to operate their mines until after the conference. No disorder has been reported and none is expected to occur in the anthracite field.

It is believed that some of the companies have guards at their collieries and more are being rushed to that field, but heads of big collieries near Scranton say that if any protection is needed it will be left up to the miners to do the protecting.

The miners also have offered to furnish responsible men from the ranks of the union to do guard duty under Sheriff P. F. Connor, who has agreed to deputize them if they are accepted by the company.

While the operators refuse to discuss what concessions they will be willing to make at the conference, sentiment throughout the mine regions is in favor of a short strike.

Workers are said to favor the acceptance of such terms, but others want greater concessions, especially the recognition of the union.

THE PITTSBURGH DISTRICT.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—About 400,000 miners employed throughout the Pittsburgh district will be idle tomorrow. It is stated tonight, however, that the suspension of work here will come to an end in a week.

SITUATION IN NANKING.

NANKING, April 1.—The report from Peking last evening as being carried on at Nanking is without foundation. The city is quiet and the War Office reports that quiet also prevails.

Premier Tang Shao Yil, ex-president Sun Yat Sen, and other leaders of the Republican movement, in the course of interviews today, declared that pessimistic reports were unfounded. Unrest in the foreign settlements in Shanghai and elsewhere, but notwithstanding the financial difficulties caused by the delay through the withdrawal of the support of the four-powers group, they were quite confident that no serious outbreak would occur anywhere.

The plans for restoring order include the establishment of four spheres—Nanking, under control of Hwang Hsien; Peking, under Yuan Shih Kai; Wuhan, under Gen. Li Yü Heng; Kwangtung under Dr. Sun Yat Sen.

There is every appearance of harmony between President Yuan Shih Kai and Sun and their followers.

Premier Tang Shao Yil has assumed temporarily the portfolio of communications until the assembly approves the nomination of Liang Jia-Hao. The members of the assembly and various departments will move to Peking at the end of the week.

DEEP CONCERN
IN WISCONSIN.Impending Election Sets New Record for Interest.Milwaukee Campaign Is Most Exciting in Years.Strength Will Be Measured at Party Primaries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] Milwaukeeans and Wisconsiners will have the nation's double-harvest interest in their elections next Tuesday, for while Milwaukee will try by a Democratic-Republican fusion to dethrone Socialism, the State will hold the first preferential primaries to be held in the United States at which the respective strength of Wilson and Clark will be tested. The preferential Presidential primaries are also included in the contest between La Follette and Taft. As the Roosevelt men are not contesting the State with La Follette, this contest will not have the nation-wide importance of the North Dakota La Follette-Roosevelt battle.

Chief interest will probably rest in the Milwaukee campaign, for it now appears certain the Socialists will be turned out of office by a revolt of the old party members of the party which has been in power for the past two years. This is indicated, not only by the figures of the primary election, but also by the spirit shown at the campaign meetings of the two opponents. The socialist meetings are described by those who were in constant attendance before the primaries as being covered, as it were, with a wet blanket. The non-partisan meetings, on the contrary, are being hotly contested, and marked by great enthusiasm.

FIGURES FAVOR FUSIONISTS.

The primary figures showed that unless there were many Socialists voting the non-partisan ticket then the general election will give the fusionists from 16,000 to 15,000 majority on Tuesday. The primary election, within a few hundred of the last regular election polling, and the defeated non-partisan candidate, Congressman William J. Clark, is speaking every night for Dr. G. A. Biddle his opponent in the primaries, and the two opponents of Socialism to get together and drive the Socialists out of office.

The merits and demerits of the Socialist cause have been the butt of the arguments, the chief point of attack by the non-partisans being the increase in city expenditures of nearly a million dollars last year over the year of the preceding administration.

The campaign marked by exceeding bitterness. The Socialist daily newspaper in daily attacking the non-partisans as candidates of the grafters, being conducted in fashion that under normal conditions would provoke some sort of breach of the peace. The non-partisan orders, however, to conduct a decent courteous campaign, and leave any possible contest to the ballot box, the ballot box after the election. This policy is calculated to defeat the efforts of Socialists to arouse a bitter class prejudice and unite the employed classes against the middle classes and is rallying the better class of workmen on the non-partisan standard.

Prospects are that the non-partisans will not only elect the heads of the administration, but will step into office with unquestioned control of the City of Milwaukee.

DEMOCRATIC RIVALRY.

Meanwhile the Presidential preferential primary campaign is not attracting much attention in Milwaukee, but much in the State. The Wilson and Clark men are in bitter rivalry in advertising and speaking, and the non-partisan men are trying to lead their candidate, the La Follette Republicans, who can be lined up against Clark, whom the Wilson men are attacking, in Wisconsin, at least, as a conservative. The Clark men are also using unusual amounts of non-dependability against Wilson, and the contest would ordinarily attract widespread attention, especially as it will be the first preferential primary, except the one in New York.

JOHNSON USES THE WHIP

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ASHINGTON, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Taft men here are hearing about the doings of the Roosevelt men here in California. The drags in them may be somewhat refined, but it is not entirely refined away, and there is a tendency to politics in ways which are not exactly altruistic and above reproach. As an indication of the truth of this observation, note the following extract from a letter received at the National Capital from a prominent Republican of California:

"Before concluding I want to say a word to you about the tactics of the Roosevelt managers. Gov. Johnson is using his whip wherever he can apply it in order to bolster up the Roosevelt movement. For example, in the list of one of the Roosevelt committees announced yesterday, I noticed the names of two men whom I felt certain were loyal to President Taft. I perceived that they had been compelled to allow their names to be used. When I state to you that they are notorious public人物, you will appreciate the situation.

"Johnson is, I think, very fearful about the Roosevelt men here in California if La Follette comes to California as even his own friends find it difficult to endorse his action in deserting the Wisconsin candidate."

When David Halsey of No. 1223 Stout street was arrested yesterday afternoon in the Lewis Dry Goods Store four Bibles were taken from under his coat. Halsey had strolled into the store in the late afternoon and opened a Bible. It was a flexible leather cover and sells for $9. He told the clerk he was "Just looking." He consulted the index frequently, seemed to be looking up references and finally was seen to slip one of the books under his coat. He kept right on reading while a detective, who made the arrest, was called. Halsey said he had come recently from Nebraska.

Gov. Harmon was met by Senator Emerson of Ohio, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, a Democratic Congressman from Ohio. He spent much of the day in the Harmon national headquarters, where he talked with political lieutenants.

Harmon in an authorized interview tonight, "and that when the convention sits at Baltimore, it will be a great privilege for the members of the party and will draft a platform and name a candidate solely with the view of meritizing the approval of the American people at the polls next November. That any considerable number of my friends should regard me as an available candidate for the Presidency is a source of great satisfaction to me."

Gov. Harmon will address the National Press Club tomorrow afternoon and will speak at Washington tomorrow night. He decided to comment upon the action of William J. Bryan in announcing that he would not serve as a delegate-at-large from Nebraska if the State indorsed Gov. Harmon's candidacy.

CHINESE CONSTITUTION
VESTS POWER IN PEOPLE.

Document Formulated at the National Assembly for Consideration by Permanent Parliament Guarantees Judicial Trial, Freedom in Possession of Property and Right of Free Speech and Religious Liberty.

[A. P. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

S HANGHAI, March 10.—The draft of the provisional constitution of the Republic of China, which was submitted to the National Assembly at Nanking on February 29, but which has to be adopted by the permanent Parliament when elected, is a document containing seven articles and fifty-five clauses, as follows:

PROVISIONAL CONSTITUTION OF THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

ARTICLE I.

General.

(1.) The Republic of China has been established by the people of China. (2.) The controlling power is vested in the body of the people as a whole.

(3.) The territory of the republic of China consists of the twenty-two provinces, Inner and Outer Mongolia, Tibet and Kokonor.

(4.) The government of the republic of China is formed of the National Assembly, the President and executive officers, and the judiciary, acting conjointly.

THE PEOPLE.

(5.) There shall be no distinction of race or religion, all being on an equality.

(6.) They shall have the following liberties: (a) No infliction of punishment without judicial trial; (b) No confinement of house and home without judicial sentence; (c) Freedom in the possession and use of property and freedom of occupation; (d) Right of free speech, publishing and printing, assembling and forming societies; (e) Privacy of correspondence; (f) Freedom of dwelling and removal elsewhere; (g) Freedom of religious belief.

(7.) They shall have the right to petition the National Assembly.

(8.) They shall have the right of appealing to the government, to the President and to the various departments.

(9.) They shall have the right of submitting all cases to the judiciary for settlement.

(10.) They shall have the right, when officials violate the law, to the injury of popular rights, of appealing to the Administrative Court.

(11.) They shall be eligible for government examinations.

(12.) They shall have the right of voting and of standing for office.

(13.) They shall pay taxes according to a fixed tax, and shall give due respect to the military.

(14.) Justices shall, in harmony with legal provision when demanded by public advantage, the maintenance of peace, or times of special emergency.

(15.) The above rights must be limited by legal provision when demanded by public advantage, the maintenance of peace, or times of special emergency.

ARTICLE THREE.

National Assembly.

(16.) Until the establishment of the Parliament, legislative authority shall be vested in the National Assembly.

(17.) The National Assembly shall be constituted by delegates from each province.

(18.) Each province, Inner and Outer Mongolia, Tibet, shall each elect five delegates, Kokonor one, the matter of election being left to each locality.

(19.) Each delegate has the right on voting and on being elected.

(20.) The National Assembly has the following duties and powers: (a) To make the laws; (b) To decide upon international questions; (c) To decide upon the Budget; (d) To enforce a uniform system of tariff, coinage, weights and measures, together with regulating the public debt; (e) To audit the accounts of the government; (f) To receive and upon the popular petitions; (g) In legal and similar matters requiring an interpretation, to decide for the government; (h) five or more members may initiate a bill introduced by the Executive; (i) to demand a referendum; (j) Five-fifths of the members present, of whom three-fourths approve the change.

(21.) This agreement shall go into effect upon its promulgation.

ARTICLO'S NEW PRESIDENT.

General Who Commanded Government Troops Opposed the Revolutionary Movement Elected.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

GUATAMAL (Ecuador) March 31.—Gen. Leonidas Plaza has been elected President of Ecuador.

Gen. Plaza was commander of the government troops which opposed the recent revolutionary movement. He was President from 1900 to 1904, Minister to the United States in 1905, and served also as Minister to other countries.

(22.) The Constitution of the republic shall be drawn up by Parliament, until which time the present Modus Operandi shall have the same force as a Constitution.

BY-LAWS.

(23.) The present agreement ("Modus Operandi") shall require a two-thirds majority of the members, or it may be amended upon recommendation of the Executive.

(24.) If it is agreed that it is better for the members to be present, of whom three-fourths approve the change.

(25.) This agreement shall go into effect upon its promulgation.

A Number of Textile Strikes Still in Progress.

Fourteen Thousand Persons Are Idle in Lowell.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, March 31.—Although strikes still are in progress in various Massachusetts textile centers, the week has brought about a noticeable improvement in general conditions.

Several of the smaller labor difficulties have been settled and a strike of 26,000 cotton mill operatives at New Bedford was averted by the granting of the 10 per cent. wage advance. Similar advances were made in other mills in New England.

A further readjustment of wages, which will bring equal wages to all operatives in cotton mills from Maine to Connecticut engaged in the same character of work is expected. To effect this readjustment will cost New England cotton manufacturers $10,000,000 annually.

Three hundred stationary firemen employed in cotton mills of Fall River have voted to strike for a flat rate of 25 cents an hour in place of the present sliding scale of 18 to 29 cents. The men are awaiting approval from their national body before quitting work.

The closing of the seven big textile mills of Lowell as the result of a strike has thrown 14,000 persons out of employment, although the mill owners assert that not more than 20 per cent. stopped work voluntarily.

Little progress has been made toward a settlement. Manufacturers say they will keep their plants closed for six months if necessary.

Members of the Industrial Workers of the World and the United Textile Workers of America are involved.

Members of the Industrial Workers are expected to ask a 15 per cent. advance in wages. This demand is exceeded by that of the Industrial Workers of the World, who seek also double pay for overtime.

PHANTOM VOICE GIVES WARNING.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The spectre of Bessie Kent, murdered wife of Harry Elgin Webster, appeared Saturday night at the home of a sister, and called for the latter's husband.

"Sanford, Sanford," called the phantom voice. Mrs. Sanford Harmon, formerly Daisy Kent, heard the call. She looked for her husband. He had not come home. Intuition told her something was wrong.

All night long she paced the floor. In the morning police notified her that during her vigil her husband, gashed and bound to a post, lay unconscious near the Sacramento station of the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad.

Learning from three boys in the care of the policeman, the distressed woman hurried to the County Hospital and there found her husband, delirious from the effects of blows he received at the hands of three high-waermen. He had been robbed of $44.

Harmon had been bound to a steel post within four feet of the rear window of an office. More than thirty feet of clothesline was used in tying him. He was gagged with a handkerchief. For twelve hours he remained in that position within four feet of the rear exit where scores of persons passed to and from the trains.

I knew that something was wrong that Sanford had been hurt, as soon as I saw the office window," said Mrs. Harmon. "I had known it all night, for early in the evening the ghost of Bessie Kent, my sister, came to the door and kept calling: 'Sanford, Sanford!' Her cry awoke me in bed, but we started. I felt no side in bed, but the cry sounded the last time my baby boy called 'Papa.' Then the other two boys awakened. They were frantic with fear. I waited the next two hours, but the fear was increased by the knowledge that Sanford was wearing an overcoat belonging to a relative who recently died."

PRESIDENT MADERO WILL NOT RESIGN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—What ever happens I shall be found at my post. I shall not resign. Reports that have been published that I intend to leave the Presidency are untrue.

President Madero made the foregoing statement tonight to an Associated Press representative.

Concerning the censorship exercised over outgoing and incoming news, the President said the sole intention was to prevent the publication of exaggerated and untrue reports, calculated to inflame the public.

"We are not doubtful of the ultimate success of our operations in the north," he said. "We know approximately the number and resources of the revolutionaries, and we are confident that we have sufficient strength of arms and resources to overcome them."

Without the sympathy with the rebel cause created by the hostile press of the country, he added, the end of the revolution would be much nearer.

Nearly a week of close censorship left the national capital tonight in doubt as to occurrences in the region between Torreón and Jiménez.

TROOPS IN READINESS.

TACOMA (Wash.) March 31.—On instructions from Adm. Gen. Fred Llewellyn, Capt. Hartwell W. Palmer of Troop B, N.G.W., made hurried preparations tonight for a trip to Hoquiam. Equipment was placed in order, horses were shod and cars were placed on tracks for use of the cavalry horses of an incoming column. There is an outbreak to-morrow morning, when the attempt will be made to reopen the Lytle mill at Hoquiam, the troop, together with a battalion of infantry from Seattle, will be rushed to the scene of the strike disturbance.

WILL REMAIN ANOTHER WINTER.

AKAROA (New Zealand) Monday, April 2, 9:20 a.m. (Exclusive Dispatch.) The Terra Nova, Capt. Robert F. Scott's polar exploration vessel, was sighted off this port this morning and anchored shortly after day-

FIRST WORD FROM SCOTT.

Nova, which carried the British expedition to the Antarctic, has arrived at Akaroa, a harbor in Banks's Peninsula, New Zealand, but has not brought back Capt. Scott or the members of his expedition. The commander of the Terra Nova brought instead the following brief message from Scott:

"I am remaining in the Antarctic for another winter in order to continue and complete my work."

The latest news sent back by Capt. Scott to his base at McMurdo Sound showed that on January 2 he had reached a point 180 miles from the South Pole and was still advancing. It was clear that had the explorer delayed sending back notification of his progress until he actually reached the Pole, word from him could not have been received by the Terra Nova before she was compelled to leave, owing to the setting in of winter and the freezing of Ross Sea.

All on board the Terra Nova are well. Great disappointment was felt when it became known that the Scott party had been left behind. The Terra Nova is expected to reach Lyttleton on Wednesday.

SCOTT'S FAILURE DISAPPOINTS BRITAIN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, March 31.—The long and impatiently awaited news of Capt. Scott's Antarctic expedition has at last arrived, but will bring the keenest disappointment to Englishmen who have cherished the hope that the British expedition might after all prove to be the first in the race for the south pole.

On January 1, nearly three weeks after Amundsen hoisted the Norwegian flag at the pole, Scott still had 150 miles to cover before attaining the object of his quest.

Since the news of Amundsen's successful attempt Englishmen have built great hopes on Capt. Scott, equaling, if not surpassing, the Norwegian's achievement. It was known that Scott had chosen the longer and, as Amundsen's experience proved, the more difficult route, but presuming that he was favored by the same exceptional weather conditions as Amundsen, few doubted he would be successful.

Now comes the disappointing news that Scott is spending another winter in the Antarctic and there will be further weary waiting before it can be known whether he even succeeded in reaching the pole. According to some of Capt. Scott's intimate friends, no surprise need be felt at his decision to spend another winter in the south, this having been within the original scope of his intentions. They suggest that he may have learned of Amundsen's exploit and upon his determination to attempt a greater journey across the ice barrier, returning from the side almost opposite to that from which he started.

If this is so the Terra Nova probably will have to wait until it can meet Scott at some fixed date at the point on the barrier opposite Graham Land far to the south of Cape Horn. It will be remembered that the German explorer, Lieut. Fritschner, is operating from that side, and in that case the two parties may meet.

If this is so the Terra Nova probably will have to wait until it can meet Scott at some fixed date at the point on the barrier opposite Graham Land far to the south of Cape Horn. It will be remembered that the German explorer, Lieut. Fritschner, is operating from that side, and in that case the two parties may meet.

Grand Island and the Missouri River.

The Des Moines River rose nearly a foot in twelve hours. The southeast part of the city is inundated; bridges are washed away and the waters still are rising.

Both the Mississippi and the Ohio river proper can stand several feet more, anxiety is felt for the levees above and below the mouth of the Ohio.

The Drinkwater levee on the Mississippi side broke today despite the efforts of more than a thousand men, and tonight the water is sweeping over a three-mile stretch of levee and flooding the southeastern section of Missouri.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.
SOCIETY BUDS
FOR SHRINERS.Pick of Crown City to Bloom
in Amateur Plays.Staid State Officials Plan Grand Stage Entre.Motorcyclist Injured When an Auto Hits Him.(Office of the Times, E. N. Fair Oaks avenue.)
PASADENA April 1.—For the purpose of raising funds to entertain the visiting Shrine when they come to Pasadena May 6 next, society women and business and professional men of the city will appear in vaudeville at Clune's Theater Monday and Tuesday night of next week.

Announcement was made some time ago of the entertainment that will then be given, but it was not until yesterday that the names of those who will participate in the programme were made public. The actors have been chosen from the most exclusive society circles of the city, and the event will be one of the chief social functions of the winter.

Several rehearsals have already taken place and those who make up the cast are convinced that their show will have an almost professional ring.

The ladies who will participate are Mrs. R. D. Davis, wife of the president of the Pasadena Board of Trade; Miss Irene Gross, a well-known young society woman of the city; and Miss Ethelred, daughter of former Mayor Earley. Theirs will be a musical skit entitled "Jack's Dilemma," said to be by George Ade, aided by local talent.

SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.

Pomona College Will Send Special Representative to Tahiti to Search for a Parasite.

POMONA, March 31.—Dr. A. J. Cook, formerly head of the biological department of Pomona College, and now State Horticultural Commissioner, is to send a special representative of the Horticultural Commission to the Tahiti Islands to search for a parasite to be pitted against the destructive Mediterranean fruit fly, also known for its ravages of the troublesome purple scale. If satisfactory "fighting parasites" are discovered they will be brought to California and propagated and put to work protecting California groves and orchards threatened with the Mediterranean fruit fly from the Hawaiian Islands.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The funeral services of the late Richard B. Wheeler were held from the First Methodist Church this afternoon and were largely attended. Rev. L. A. Van Arnam, assisted by Rev. W. J. Lee, officiated, and the members of the Wheeler family, Odd Fellows and Woodmen lodges, of which the deceased was a member, attended the services in a body.

Prof. David P. Barrows, a graduate of Pomona College and son of Dr. N. B. Barrows, S. N. of this city, has been appointed head of the State Institute for the blind at Berkeley. Prof. Barrows is also dean of the pedagogical department of the University of California.

Rev. Horace Wagnleitner, for years a member of the American Board of Missions at Hermosillo, Mexico, addressed the Congregational Sunday Morning Circle on personal experiences in the present revolution and the Mexican tendencies toward socialism.

Workers are engaged installing the new pipe organ in the nearly completed new Pilgrim Congregational Church on North Garey avenue. The grounds about the church are being leveled and trees and lawns are to be planted. The lawn will be on a level about the Ebenezer Clubhouse, thus making an attractive expanse of green from Pasadena to street.

BEACH BRIEFS.

A prominent visitor in the city last week was Rev. W. F. King of Mt. Vernon, Ill., who was president of Cornell College in that city for forty years. He is a noted lecturer and has equal in the United States. Though more than 80 years of age he is busy with a campaign to raise a fund of $400,000 for the college. While here he was the guest of Dr. J. Lewis Curtis and Prof. A. C. Ross, who are Cornell alums.

Beginning tomorrow the electric dredger of the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company will start northward, opening up Channel No. 1 of the harbor as far as the San Pedro Pacific railroad, the silt and dredging to be done by the company.

E. R. John, a former British officer in India, is at the head of the enterprise and will accompany the expedition. W. H. Lynch will be official photographer. W. H. Jenkins is also an officer in the corporation.

SOUTH PASADENA ELECTION.

Three slides will be of interest to every automobile enthusiast in the city as well as to the visiting tourist. Scenes from the paved city streets and the broad residence avenue to the wild mountain drive and ocean boulevard will be to be found in the collection, which has been so carefully gathered by the management of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The meeting arranged for tonight, in the amphitheater of the local auto club, which has entered upon such an extensive project of Southern California advertising.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are telegrams at the Western Union office for Miss S. M. Anderson, Mrs. F. C. Aldorf, Mrs. J. C. Bagne, Mrs. Jemima Bell, Mrs. C. J. Berger, Mrs. G. V. Chesser, Mrs. R. C. Duke, Mrs. Ante Rix Melix, Mrs. Leo P. Maus, Mrs. Isabella Plank, Edwin Arkell, Mrs. Buchanan, Bert S. Bingham, Charles Bright, G. W. Buel, Jack Davis, Ray E. D. A. D. O. Fink, Mrs. B. H. Hasc, R. H. Hynes, E. H. Huse, Harry Killalea, Frances Major, R. E. Paine, B. W. Robbins, R. H. Sayers, Tamaka, T. F. Ujikawa, G. R. Wilson.

The piece de resistance will be the municipal election, the first of the following week, when two City Councils will be seated. The lesser favors a perpetuation of the present policies, while the City Club has declared for a new deal and has named Mrs. Clara Bouck as a candidate, to fill one of the vacant chairs.

"TIMES" COSTUME WINS.

Avalon Miss Achieves Distinction in Dress Made From Copies of World's Greatest Newspaper.

AVALON, March 31.—Competing with nearly one hundred persons at a masked ball held in the Eagles Hall last evening Miss M. Baker, artistically arrayed in a costume made from The Times, secured first prize for lady competitors. Second and third prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. P. Miller and Mrs. C. Richardson respectively. In a competition of a dozen Chinamen, P. Lubertich was awarded the first gents' prize, W. Thornburg, second prize, and Miss L. Sovereign third prize.

The judges of the competition were all strangers to the characters represented in the costumes, from girls who had arrived on the noon boat for a week-end visit. Two of the judges were from New York City, and one from San Francisco. Miss Sovereign assumed gentleman's attire for the occasion.

Costumes representing all nations and conditions prevailed. Persian, Turkish and ancient garbs loomed up conspicuously in many colors among the dancers. From the "Queen Regent" to the "King of the Kings" theights were beamed before the judges. The room was artistically decorated with many colored electric bulbs, palms and flowers.

Scarcely had the grand march commenced than "The Times" Miss Baker, was called to step aside from the line of the dancers. The judges commenced the laborious task of choosing the winners of second and third places. The prizes were awarded for the most artistic costume.

From the "Teachers" of the large programme to be an address by Dr. Henry L. Rasmus on "The Women of the Beginning" and an exercise by the Home Guards of the First Church of Long Beach.

BOND ELECTION.

On Tuesday the citizens of Long Beach will vote on the much-disputed question of bond issues of $162,000 for permanent repair to the Pine Avenue pier and for a new pier at Thirty-ninth place in the eastern part of the city. The outcome of the vote is problematical as a strong opposition is developing because of the uncertainty as to the durability of the concrete piling which it is proposed to use for the sub-structure.

The wharf at Long Beach is built out into the ocean instead of the water, subject to the storms and the swells and breakers, and opponents of the bonds contend that the conditions are far different from concrete wharves built in protected waters. It is generally conceded that the stocks of the bonds are safe with the vote of the women. Both sides are confident. There will be eighteen voting precincts in the different wards of the city.

TURNING OUT BIG SHIP.

The new vessel being built for the Western Pacific Navigation Co. is rapidly nearing completion and will be launched in May and ready for service in July. The new ship will be called the Camino and is the largest boat built by the Craigie. It is 310 feet long and has a tonnage of 4,000.

It is intended to run on the California trade but will run to San Francisco until the canal is completed.

The company owns the Navajo, which is under a three-year's charter. Bates and Chappell, who have been working on the ship for a year, are 99 per cent for its own account. The ship plant is also at work on the frame of the first passenger and freight steamer for the Long Beach Steamship company. This vessel will be 210 feet long, four foot wide and sixteen foot model depth, with a carrying capacity of 1,000,000 feet of lumber, and passenger accommodation for fifty.

STEENTH TERMS.

A prominent visitor in the city last week was Rev. W. F. King of Mt. Vernon, Ill., who was president of Cornell College in that city for forty years. He is a noted lecturer and has equal in the United States.

Beginning tomorrow the electric dredger of the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company will start northward, opening up Channel No. 1 of the harbor as far as the San Pedro Pacific railroad, the silt and dredging to be done by the company.

BEACH BRIEFS.

The City Council through Mayor Hatch has extended an invitation to the Department of the G.A.R. of California and Nevada, soon to meet at Stockton, to hold its 1913 convention in Los Angeles.

Beginning tomorrow the electric dredger of the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company will start northward, opening up Channel No. 1 of the harbor as far as the San Pedro Pacific railroad, the silt and dredging to be done by the company.

E. R. John, a former British officer in India, is at the head of the enterprise and will accompany the expedition. W. H. Lynch will be official photographer. W. H. Jenkins is also an officer in the corporation.

SOUTH PASADENA ELECTION.

Combination of Three Is Conceded to Victory If Effectuated—City Divided in Support of Candidates.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 31.—Polling places at the municipal election April 6 will be as follows: First precinct, No. 1102 Sycamore, average; second precinct, No. 915 El Centro street; third precinct, No. 1018 Mission street; fourth precinct, No. 1012 Brent avenue; fifth precinct, tent at 11th and Hill streets; sixth precinct, tent at 6th and Hill streets; seventh precinct, tent at 11th and Hill streets; eighth precinct, tent on Oneonta Park tract. According to the members of the different factions, any combination of three candidates is slated to win. While supporters of Henry Hartley are well organized and confident that the business experience and engineering ability of their candidate will justify his election, supporters of Ernest Sutton and Hartley packed that they will be the successful candidates.

In the north and west sections of the city investigation shows Sutton and Hawgood to be the favorites; in the central and southern districts, Sutton and Parker are said to be the leading candidates. There is an extensive project of Southern California advertising.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are telegrams at the Western Union office for Miss S. M. Anderson, Mrs. F. C. Aldorf, Mrs. J. C. Bagne, Mrs. Jemima Bell, Mrs. C. J. Berger, Mrs. G. V. Chesser, Mrs. R. C. Hynes, E. H. Huse, Harry Killalea, Frances Major, R. E. Paine, B. W. Robbins, R. H. Sayers, Tamaka, T. F. Ujikawa, G. R. Wilson.

The piece de resistance will be the candidates is being made the basis of their campaigns.

Miss Clara Orizaba Tomasson and Miss McGillivray were married Thursday in Santa Ana. Miss McGillivray is the daughter of Mrs. L. E. Tomasson of Santa Monica, while Mr. McGillivray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGillivray of Indiana street, this city. After a short wedding trip the young couple will live in South Pasadena.

Members of the Brotherhood of the Calvary Presbyterian Church have elected officers for the coming year as follows: President, Charles A. Yielding; vice-president, W. H. Clarke; treasurer, Joseph G. Walker; chairman of the programme committee, John B. Loun; chairman of the memorial committee, Richard T. Ward; chairman of the missionary societies committees, P. F. Dodson and E. H. Stanford. The annual meeting of the congregation will be held next Wednesday evening, at which time reports for the past year will be read.

BRISBANE DOINGS IN WATTS.

New Business Enterprises Planned to Be Established—School Board Election Divides Citizens.

WATTS, March 31.—W. W. Wooley, for many years in the drug business in this city, but who sold out about last Christmas, has decided to engage in the undertaking business and will at once commence the erection of a building suitable for that purpose at Rosella avenue and Taurita street.

A new drug store is to be opened the coming month on West Main street, by a Los Angeles man who has been looking for an opening for some time.

The school election to be held next Friday promises to be warmly contested. Mrs. F. E. Spradling has been put forward by the women of the district, while John Otto is a candidate behind whom the present board of trustees are putting their strength.

It is alleged that too much politics has been played by the school board, and those who do not approve of that are threatening to do the same for Mrs. Spradling. It is generally believed she will be elected.

Otto Koestner, of this place, who for three years has been singing in the church, will sing a baritone solo at the M. E. Church Sunday morning. Koestner has accepted an engagement in Los Angeles.

The morning session will be devoted to reports of the office and papers by Messengers, Emily Baird and L. E. Bell of Los Angeles, Mrs. E. L. Miller of Pasadena and Miss Laura Charnock of Los Angeles on the Indian, Japanese, hospital and young people's work.

The afternoon programme consists of further reports from various departments of the home mission work, together with reports of finances and news. Mrs. Anna Holmes of Los Angeles will discuss the "Mormon Problem" and Mrs. A. B. Avis of Pomona will tell of the deacons work of the society.

The closing features of the day's programme is to be an address by Dr. Henry L. Rasmus on "The Women of the Beginning" and an exercise by the Home Guards of the First Church of Long Beach.

GREAT PLEASURE CROWDS.

Beach Resorts Alive with Sunday Visitors Who See Flying Machines and Other Attractions.

SANTA MONICA, March 31.—Sunshine, balmy air, ocean breezes and sunlight bring out the largest crowd of the season to the beach today. They traveled by trolley car and also patronized all of the automobile boulevards, the touring cars early in the day having taken possession of all of the desirable parking spaces.

The entertainment that was to have been given by the children of the local school for the benefit of the P. T. A. Friday night has been postponed on account of the rain to Monday night, April 1.

Three weeks ago there was not a single picture show in Watts, but now there are three in operation.

SANTA MONICA, March 31.—Sunshine, balmy air, ocean breezes and sunlight bring out the largest crowd of the season to the beach today. They traveled by trolley car and also patronized all of the automobile boulevards, the touring cars early in the day having taken possession of all of the desirable parking spaces.

The entertainment that was to have been given by the children of the local school for the benefit of the P. T. A. Friday night has been postponed on account of the rain to Monday night, April 1.

Three weeks ago there was not a single picture show in Watts, but now there are three in operation.

MOVE-ON LAW
TAKES EFFECT.Keep I.W.W. Jawsmiths Go-

Sunday Gatherings.Woman Tramples Ordinance to Show Contempt.BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
SAN DIEGO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a "move-on" ordinance in effect the police are now able to break up street meetings of the I.W.W. and Socialists, which for months have been a menace to traffic and an incentive to inflammatory speeches.

When a crowd of I.W.W. leaders endeavored to congregate in front of the County Jail to indulge in the usual Sunday harangue this morning a squad of policemen appeared and drove the speakers from the street.

Further attempts to hold meetings were not made. Repeated arrests by the police and prosecutions in the State courts together with Federal investigation of unnaturalized anarchists have disheartened the leaders of the element that boasted they would defy the laws of the city and State, until now the ring is practically broken up.

For the last two weeks the police have been assisted by a so-called Vigilance Committee of leading citizens which has taken part in deporting from the city many undesirable characters.

ALDS THE PENITENT.

Of the forty-one arrested in February charged with conspiracy to disregard the law, Dist.-Atty. H. S. Utley is weeding out the deserving who have become penitent with declarations that they were led into the "cause" by the leaders and that henceforth they will become law-abiding citizens and recommenders to the court that they be granted probation. A number of these condemned in jail have been liberated.

The District Attorney also has granted parole to a number of those sent from the jail to San Quentin and Riverside, where they are confined awaiting trials here on charges of vagrancy. The police are still investigating reported threats of the use of dynamite and will press charges against Jack Wythe and others believed to be implicated in a dynamite plot.

Of the insistent women leaders of the "cause," Laura Payne Emerson and Juanita McLean still enjoy liberty on bail. McLean, however, is under a new holding for a hearing in Juvenile Court. Yesterday she succeeded in furnishing $200 bail and was released from jail.

When Mrs. Emerson was presented to the court the morning on an ordinance which went into effect a few days ago, she showed her contempt for the law by trampling the printed copy under foot.

BEATS BARNEY.

At the automobile race meet at the Lakeside track this afternoon 4000 people saw the mile record made by Barney Oldfield in 1907 at the same place in 1 min. 11.1 seconds. That feat was accomplished by Louis Dibrow, with a 250-horsepower "Jaguar" car. He tore around the mile stretch of the track in 22.2 seconds. Had not the track been so trifly rough Dibrow would have set a new record from the record. His greatest speed was made on the stretch before the grand stand turn was reached. Here he traveled at the rate of 105 miles an hour. The other events of the meet were.

H. H. Shain driving a Schacht car defeated the Case Bullet driven by Joe Nikrant. The race was for ten miles, but on the third lap the Case Bullet went out of the running, its engine firing on only three cylinders. In a six-mile spin Nikrant in the Case Bullet defeated Dibrow in the Case Bullet and the winning car, the Case Bullet, and H. Ulbricht in the Little Giant. Time 6:06 4.5. Dibrow at the wheel of a Simplex drove twelve miles in 11:17, the record of the six-mile laps being made by Dibrow. This event was a world's record for twelve miles over a circular dirt track.

The last event brought out Dibrow and the Jay Eye See car again. He did two miles in 1:44 1.5, the fastest of the meet.

ON THE WAKE.

What has been termed the free speech agitation in San Diego appears to be on the wane. Only about 1000 people assembled today for the usual Sunday meeting in the jail. Two policemen appeared and the crowd promptly dispersed. The policemen did not draw their clubs.

BOARD OF TRADE CAUGHT.

Tulare Land Buyer Claims He Was Defrauded in a Purchase—Wants Dual Set Aside.

TULARE, March 31.—Officials of the Tulare Board of Trade were unwillingly made parties to an alleged swindle this week, because there are two men named Thomas owning property in the alfalfa district, owning adjacent properties, and it is asserted that on the strength of a Board of Trade recommendation Joseph Canby, Calgary, Canada, has been swindled out of Canadian property to the value of $40,000.

In the alfalfa section there was a piece of property owned at the time of the transfer by J. K. Thomas of Los Angeles, although it is stated that Thomas had no responsibility in the swindle, and this property was sold to a man named the other John Eastwood, a Calgary realty dealer. Canby gave city residence property for the land, when the Board of Trade told him the land was worth only $1000. The recommendation was written, however, on an adjacent property, which was owned by J. K. Thomas of the Woodville district. It is alleged that the property to carry as baggage what dynamics they needed for development work on mining properties.

DYNAMITE SHIPPING.

Today the Santa Fe posted in all its waiting rooms notices of the law's prohibitions upon the carrying by passengers on the trains. The company has maintained a campaign against this practice, and miners and others have closely watched. Heretofore the practice has been general for miners to carry as baggage what dynamics they needed for development work on mining properties.

THINGS ARE GETTING HOT.

Anaheim Politics Promised to Remain at Low Temperature But Steam Is Being Generated Now.

ANAHEIM, March 31.—The Anaheim city election will occur Monday, April 8. The Socialist candidates have held that they did not expect election and that the men in the field merely as a matter of keeping up their organization and advancing it if possible. The outlook was that the election would be a quiet expression on the part of voters as to choice of men whom they believed best fitted to conduct the affairs of the city in the most business-like, progressive and consequently best manner for the tax payers.

The outlook has been changed by the injection of a line-up of certain candidates and voters are now confronted with a combination made by Messrs. Nagel, Gates and Eymann in opposition to the field. These gentlemen are seeking a union with which they may put public in a strong communication which stated their platform. The above candidates are against the saloon while the other three candidates, Hammar Stark, John Cook and George Hammar favor the saloon. City officials say the election will not be voted on at the coming election, there promises to be a heated election as to which three of the six men are elected.

VISALIA.

VISALIA, March 31.—After carefully disposing things in his room that they might not be splashed with his blood, including the removal of a rug from beneath his chair, Reason McKeel, a retired cattlemen, who had been shot in the head from Kank City, suicided by blowing out his brains with a shot from a newly-purchased 25-caliber revolver, in his room in Acqua street, late last evening. Death was instantaneous. His wife, a widow, had been shot in his skull, and imbedding itself in the wall of the room. He was 72 years of age.

HUNTERS GALORE.

VISALIA, March 31.—According to the records of the County Clerk's office, hunting licenses were issued during the season to 2347 nimrods. This exceeds the record of last year, by almost 300. Most of these licenses were issued to take the place of those lost or destroyed during the entire year. A large proportion of licenses were issued to those other than residents of Tulare county, only one license being issued to a foreign-born resident.

CLASS D. BALL.

TULARE, March 31.—At a general meeting of the managers of the baseball teams in the San Joaquin Valley League, which was held here yesterday afternoon, it was unanimously decided to play organized ball this year, and application will be made for a charter and franchise for a Class D league.

COMMENDABLE.

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLAR HOSPITAL FOR REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, March 31.—Delegates from all of the conferences of the West, meeting at the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, yesterday afternoon, decided to purchase a 130-acre tract lying between the sanitarian and Colton areas, which will be added to the 300-acre tract already owned by them.

It is the plan to spend a $40,000 premium on the grounds and 1000 feet above the hospital and heating plant. The new tract cost $60,000. On a portion of the tract is a twenty-seven-acre orange grove, which is very valuable, and on the other portion there is alfalfa and grapes.

TWENTY GUESTS.

Twenty boys of the Redlands Y.M.C.A. are to be the guests of the George Junior Republic at Chino Tuesday night. Physical Director Joseph F. Relemer and some of the boys will leave here Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock on bicycles. They will carry two blankets and one meal on their backs. They will take supper at the dining room of the Republic, breakfast and dinner the following day. Mrs. Relemer and a few of the boys will go by train Tuesday after

FEUD ENDS IN MERCHANT GOING TO COUNTY JAIL.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 31.—John Blake, pioneer merchant of Kramer, a desert station on the Santa Fe, thirty miles west of Barstow, was lodged in the county jail this morning, charged with murder. He shot and killed J. S. Steiner, Santa Fe section foreman, at Kramer, last evening.

The killing of Steiner was accidental. Blake having fired at W. J. Young, station agent, father-in-law of the deceased. For many years Blake and Young have been bitterest enemies. Six years ago Blake shot Young, who was killed in a hunting accident. Yesterday Blake turned to Kramer from a visit to this city. As he presented Young with his baggage check, Young exclaimed: "This is a good time for you to apologize to my wife for what you said to her."

Blake replied by whipping out a revolver and firing. Young dropped to the ground and the bullet passed over his striking Steiner, who was standing a few feet away, in the head. Steiner died within a few moments.

COUNTY ROAD SYSTEM PLAN.

Riverside Would Connect Its Towns With Highways.

Surveys Ordered Through a Famous Beauty Section.

Former State School Head Seriously Indisposed.

RIVERSIDE, March 31.—Some important road work is in progress in Riverside county, the purpose of which is to connect the county towns with the outside world. Supervisor Crane has had completed the first link in the great ocean-to-ocean highway, when a very passable road was constructed from Whitewater, a few miles east of Banning, to Palm Springs. This included the construction of a bridge over the Whitewater River.

In order to get the trade of the rich Yucaipa Valley, two roads are under construction from points on the Southern Pacific to Yucaipa. One of these goes from Ordway through Liver Oak Canyon and the other from Beaumont. The latter road has a grade not to exceed 8 per cent, and passes through a section of the mountains that promises to become famous for its scenic beauty when better known.

Surveys have been ordered for the proposed Elsinore-San Juan road, which will bring the lake city within twenty-eight miles of Laguna Beach, Anza, and San Juan. The Orange County has two miles to build to complete its section of the highway, and Riverside county about two and one-half miles through the mountains. The remainder of the road was completed some time since. It is believed that this is now able to be described in a book by a well-known architect.

The plan of the original exterior of the palace, none of which now remains. It is stated that he will also prove that the architect who under Louis XIII built the first palace was not as supposed, Lescure or Debroise, but Philibert Le Roy.

In Yokohama the towers are owned and the firemen are paid by the Association of Fire Insurance Companies. In Tokio it is owned by the city. There are forty-seven such towers in Yokohama, each with a gong which fire alarms are given. At night, towers and firemen are kept on these towers, who give the alarm by gongs in case fire is discovered. In Tokio the towers are also used for both fire and police alarms. The city is divided into seven districts, each having a central alarm station. About 290 machines record the alarms upon the tapes in the different towers and police and fire stations.

The water pressure in the lower portion and in the Japanese quarter of Yokohama is from thirty to forty pounds per square inch, but in the American section, where there is much water, the pressure is almost nil. In Tokio the situation is much more satisfactory.

The water pressure in the city of Manila is from forty-four to forty-four pounds per square inch.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Call of the Wild West.

"The Call of the Wild" West show was too much for Miss Jessie Currie, her uncle thinks, for she is missing from home, and he told the press yesterday he thought she could not return with the show. She lives at No. 717 Rosemond street. John C. Hoag, the uncle, No. 451 Savoy street, says the girl left home Friday noon. She is 15 years old, large for her age, of medium complexion, auburn hair powdered over her forehead, and usually wears a gray yarn cap with a tassel to it.

For Co-operative Colony.

A meeting of tentative stockholders and others interested in the proposed American Co-operative Equitable Producers' Association was held yesterday afternoon in Burbank Hall to consider the question of acquiring 100 acres near the city and forming a colony, incorporated as a stock company for the raising of farm produce and live stock at the minimum figures. Theodore E. Peiser, who originated the scheme, says that the organization will probably be placed at $100,000.

Georgia to Reorganize.

The Georgia Society, which has been in a dormant condition for some time past, will hold a reorganization meeting at the office of Dr. Henry S. Cheney, No. 727 Gross Building, to-morrow afternoon. New officers will be elected and the organization will be on a thoroughly live basis. A full attendance of former residents of Georgia is desired.

Animal Inherits Savings Bank Account and Securities Said to Be of Great Value—Provision Is Made for Medical Attendance and Proper Burial at Death.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
FALL RIVER (Mass.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That her faithful mare, Daisy, which for the past two years had drawn her on her pleasure and hunting trips through the cities and towns of Bristol county, might not want for anything after her death, the will of the late Susan L. Munroe of this city, has revealed the fact that the 31-year-old mare will be the richest horse in Massachusetts.

The mare has inherited a savings bank account and shares of stock in two of the richest mills in Fall River, all of which is to be held for the animal's benefit by a trustee and the income used for her comfortable maintenance and support.

Provision has also been made for the attendance of a veterinarian, and when distances away to the equine heaven she is to be given a fitting burial.

Rumor has it that Daisy's account and stock mount up as high as $100,000.

Denver "Prof." Says the Chair Should Be Between the Man and the Girl He Takes to the Theater.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. Homer C. Dods, high school teacher, has a plan all his own for avoiding the pitfalls that threaten the theatergoer, so unique that it will possibly satisfy many consciences.

Prof. Dods proposes that every time a young man takes his sweet heart to the theater he buy three seats. The third seat reserved by the young man is to remain between himself and the young lady he is escorting. On this basis there will be a card "reserved for Christ."

Dods doesn't say he has tried the experiment for himself. In the presence of the Deity, says the professor, it is not wrong to witness all the contortions of the modern ballet dancer, and he insists even the most strict church attendant can enjoy the theater under such conditions.

REPUDIATES HARMON.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The following is part of a statement issued tonight at the Woodrow Wilson headquarters: "Major Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, known nationally as the political head of Tom L. Johnson, has withdrawn his presidential candidacy of Gov. Judson Harmon and declared for the nomination of Gov. Woodrow Wilson. Mayor Baker, who is at the head of the Cuyahoga Democracy, and member of the Ohio State Central Committee, has signed a Wilson petition to the national party. Primary, the result of which will control the selection and instructing of the Ohio delegates at large to the national convention. Furthermore, Mayor Baker has announced his withdrawal from the campaign. The bolt of Mayor Baker is considered in Ohio, as the hardest blow the Harmon candidacy has received in the Governor's home State."

Railroad Record.
FISHER URGES
PROMPT ACTION.Secretary Pushes Alaskan
Railway Project.Wants to Use Panama Canal
Equipment on Work.Measure to that End Being Prepared in Congress.

BY A. P. NIGHT, WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Fisher is urging the House to clothe the Federal government with immediate authority to use the construction equipment and supplies on the Panama Canal, as they are to be leased there by completion of work for building a government railroad in Alaska from tidewater, at Resurrection Bay, to the Yukon Valley.

Chairman Flood of the House Territories Committee, has prepared a bill to provide for a report upon such a project to come before a future session of Congress. Secretary Fisher, in a letter to Representative Booher of Missouri, makes suggestions today for changes in the Flood bill and also outlines a substitute measure to provide for the use of the equipment.

The secretary presses the point that if legislation be delayed utilization of the Panama Canal construction equipment will not be practicable.

He calls attention to the government's engineering feat at Panama under a very simple act of Congress, and applies the same measures to the railroad in Alaska.

Resurrection Bay has been selected as a coaling station site by the Navy Department.

"You committee," wrote Secretary Fisher, "should consider whether the development of this harbor, and the construction of the railroad from it to the interior would not be justified upon military and naval as well as upon economic considerations. During five months of the year, water transportation for coal may be made available on Cook Inlet or Knik Arm, within a short distance from the Matanuska coal fields. This would reduce the time required for the railroads between Knik Arm and Seward and would remove the necessity for some heavy construction, which would be required if the entire traffic is to pass over the line."

I have pointed out to the President what agricultural possibilities would be opened by the proposed railroad.

The commission should have authority to look on and make arrangements with the existing railroads if it prefers to do this rather than to construct an entirely independent railroad or to acquire any of the existing roads for this purpose.

It is the desire of the government to own, in its entirety an independent rail line from tidewater to the Yukon, or one of its navigable tributaries, rather than lease or contract for operating rights over part of such a line."

Lumber Manager Now on
Way to Honduras.

Friends Know Little as to
When, How or Why.

Auditing of His Books Will Determine Action.

Rigid inquiry into the affairs of Percy N. Gibbons, manager of the Pasadena branch of the Kerckhoff-Cuzner Lumber Company, is expected to be completed within a day or two. Whether or not his abrupt departure for Honduras is a matter for the attention of other authorities than those of the concern itself. The investigation and auditing of his books is now well under way but, aside from expressing surprise that a man in Gibbons' position should have left for Honduras so unceremoniously and that he should have had such an errand at all, the company officers decline to put themselves on record in the matter.

In the meantime Gibbons' family hold themselves strictly incommunicato at their residence, No. 417 Cypress avenue, Pasadena. All inquiries are met with the statement that they know nothing about the matter. That the manager has gone to Honduras and that he left in a great hurry as he was unable to notify his employer by telephone or telegraph was the statement yesterday of his father-in-law, Sergeant Albert O. Bristol, of No. 591 Lincoln avenue, the oldest member of the Pasadena police force.

—HAD BUSINESS THERE.—

"Perky has mining interests in Honduras," said Bristol. "I do not know exactly where they are or what they are, though I understand it is a gold proposition. He found some time ago that he would have to send some stuff down there. Then, at the last moment, he found that he would have to accompany the shipment. The boat was to be impounded and there was no time to notify the lumber company officials or anybody else."

"What was the name of the boat?" was asked.

"I don't know her name," replied Bristol.

"What was the 'stuff' he was taking?"

"I don't know. He didn't say. I understand it was some machinery or something like that."

"When do you expect him back?"

"Probably not for two or three months."

"Will he resume his position with the lumber company on his return?"

"I don't know—I don't think so."

"Do you think there was anything wrong?"

"I do not. I believe they will find everything straight when the books are audited."

"The books of our Pasadena branch will be carefully examined," said R. E. Cuzner, a bartender, who has been with Gibbons for twelve years.

"I cannot hazard a guess as to what the report will disclose until later in the week. I have heard that Gibbons was interested in mining ventures in Honduras. It seems somewhat strange for a salaried man to be interested in mining and machinery. However, I don't want to say anything unjust about the man, as at the present time we lack information."

—WAIT ON EXPERTING.

When asked if the matter would be taken today to the District Attorney, Cuzner replied that it was too early to state what would be done. He said the thing was to go carefully over the books.

Gibbons is about 35 years old. He is well known in Pasadena and a prominent member of several fraternal and social organizations. His friends uniformly declare that there is nothing unusual about his departure, than a sudden call of business, admitting that this is, however, in the nature of a resignation from his manership.

Mr. Gibbons, who was Miss Alice Bristol, was married to Gibbons about twelve years ago. They have three children, Julia, aged 11; Tommies, 9; and Percy, Jr., 7. The only statement which she will make is that she does not know where her husband is at present, but that everything is all right.

Gibbons was not under bond, but according to the officials of the company, this is in a measure obviated by the system of frequent settlements with the main office.

Following the election of Platt and the subsequent turn-down of the proxies from the three States, Robinson asked for the passage of the protest resolution.

Robinson handed in his resignation two weeks ago but it was not received by the committee, who sent a delegation to ask him to retain his position.

At the same meeting the committee refused to pass a resolution protesting against the third-rounding of the proxies of Washington, Oregon and part of Utah at the recent international congress election in San Francisco, which was demanded by Robinson as the price of his retention as president.

The resignation of Robinson is the culmination of a fight over the candidacy of F. L. Platt of San Francisco, for president of the international congress to be held by the dentists in 1915. Robinson, supported by the minority of the committee, fought Platt's election, predicting a rule or ruin policy. The delegates to the election held March 15, were appointed by Robinson as anti-Platt men, but the San Francisco's friends got busy and obtained the withdrawal of the delegation.

The work of the new executive will be to implement in ironing out the ruffles in the hitherto unbroken organization and to appease both Platt and anti-Platt men.

Robinson men, strongly opposed to the Platt slate, have announced their intention to boycott the proposed congress and to refuse to donate money towards the $50,000 needed for the entertainment of the 6000 visiting dentists who are expected to attend the congress. This defection as proposed by the Robinson men, it is said, will spread to the States whose proxies were disbanded.

FISHER URGES
PROMPT ACTION.Secretary Pushes Alaskan
Railway Project.Wants to Use Panama Canal
Equipment on Work.Measure to that End Being Prepared in Congress.

(BY A. P. NIGHT, WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Fisher is urging the House to clothe the Federal government with immediate authority to use the construction equipment and supplies on the Panama Canal as they are released there by completion of work for building a government railroad in Alaska from tidewater at Resurrection Bay to the Yukon Valley.

Chairman Flood of the House Territories Committee, has prepared a bill to provide for a report upon such a project to come before a future session of Congress. Secretary Fisher, in a letter to Representative Booher of Missouri, makes suggestions today for changes in the Flood bill and also outlines a substitute measure to provide for a similar bill.

The secretary presses the point that if legislation be delayed utilization of the Panama Canal construction equipment will not be practicable.

He calls attention to the government's engineering feat at Panama under a simple act of Congress and wishes to propose some measure to the railroad in Alaska.

Resurrection Bay has been selected as a coaling station site by the Navy for a coaling station site by the Navy.

"We are committees," wrote Secretary Fisher, "should consider whether the development of this harbor, and the construction of the railroad from it to the interior would not be justified upon military and naval as well as upon economic considerations."

Five months of the year water transportation for coal may be made available on Cook Inlet or Knik Arm, within a short distance from the Matanuska coal fields. This would reduce the cost of coal to the railroads between Knik Arm and Seward and would remove the necessity for some heavy construction which would be required if the entire traffic is to pass over that line.

"I have pointed out to the President that agricultural possibilities would be opened by the proposed railroad.

The commission should have authority to lease or make arrangements with the existing railroads if it prefers to do this rather than to construct an entirely independent railroad or to acquire any of the existing roads for that purpose.

"It is but natural for the government to own, in its entirety, an independent rail line from tidewater to the Yukon, or one of its navigable tributaries, rather than lease or contract for operating rights over part of such a line."

Acrobats and Bareback Riders Are Enlisted in the Cause of Votes for Women at a Meeting Characterized by a Row in Madison Square Garden.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through the efforts of Dr. Anna Shaw, Harriet Stanton Blatch and Beatrice Jones, the women of the Barnum & Bailey's circus were organized to work for the suffrage cause.

The first vote-for-women meeting in the circus ended stormily. Alexander Seabert, husband of Lillian Seabert, a bareback rider, pushed himself into the meeting, took his wife and her sister, Jennie Byram, and hustled them out of the menagerie room in Madison Square Garden where the meeting was being held. Seabert shouted that he didn't intend to let his wife take part in such nonsense.

The suffrage meeting was called in the afternoon by Josie Demott, for many years one of the riders in the show. Other enthusiastic "votes for women" members are Mrs. Zella Florence, an acrobat; Kate Sandwin, a female Hercules; Eugenia Silton, Mrs. Josie Wallace, May Wirth, star of the circus, and Victoria Davenport, a rider.

Miss Jones told the circus women that there was nothing in the suffrage campaign that need antagonize the men folks of the show. The way for them to work, she suggested, would be to hold meetings in cities and towns visited.

THE ILLUMINATED HAT.

New Design of the Edison Company in Chicago With the Dry Battery Stored in the Corage.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An active demand for "Incandescent hats," the first of which was displayed here several days ago, during the convention of dressmakers, has caused the Commonwealth Edison Company to get out a number of designs, all operated from small dry batteries in the crown of the hat.

One new design was exposed in the windows yesterday. It contains tiny orange bulbs about the size and shape of small tangerines, and are connected with green wires, looped in a bulbous and decorative fashion.

New designs to be completed this week will imitate rosebuds and all sorts of flowers, in which a bulb formation can figure.

It is also planned to relieve the weight of the electric hat by carrying the battery in the corage.

HIT BIRD FLUTTERS.

CHICAGO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In this city, March 31, after an all-day ride Col. Roosevelt reached home tonight from his campaign trip through the Central States. He spoke in eight States. He gave out a statement that a majority of the New York newspapers had suppressed news relating to his campaign and on this account people in New York did not realize how deeply most of the country has been by the infamy of the so-called primaries on Tuesday last, in this city.

The statement also contained a reference to President Taft's speech in Philadelphia, in which Col. Roosevelt said he would remain at Sagamore Hill until next Tuesday, when he would start on a campaign trip into the South.

DORE'S FRIEND DYING.

A War Correspondent of the Sixties, Companion of Great Illustrator, in the Hospital.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
GEORGETOWN (Colo.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the County Poor Farm, forgotten by former friends, Frederick Huet, 84 years of age, artist, sculptor, student and dreamer, lies on his death bed.

Educated in the government School of Arts (Gobelin School) at Paris, Huet, the son of Gustave Dore. His parents were wealthy, but at 20 he emigrated to Boston, lived there and went to New York.

He was in the Civil War for Leeks, but his sympathies were with the Confederates, and he lost his place. After wandering through Mexico, he came back here in 1864. For twenty years Huet uttered no word concerning his past nor touched a brush to canvas.

Huet established a studio in 1890, in a livery stable, and turned out a few fine works. Huet, however, was advised to drink and became a drunkard.

PUT IN WAGE CLAIMS.

Carmen, Operators, Clerks and Agents on Eastern Roads Declare They Should Be Considered.

(BY A. P. NIGHT, WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, March 31.—Organization officers representing the carmen, telegraph operators, clerks, signal men, switchmen, clerks and agents employed by many eastern railroads met today and issued a statement declaring that their claims for better pay should be considered before the railroads grant further increases to higher-salaried employees.

Earl H. Morton of Boston, president of the Order of Railroad Station Agents, who gave out the statement, said it referred particularly to the situation caused by the demand of the engineers for a 10 per cent raise.

Huet, he said, had addressed no communication directly to the railroad companies but probably would apply within two weeks for a general advance.

Lumber Manager Now on
Way to Honduras.

Friends Know Little as to
When, How or Why.

Auditing of His Books Will Determine Action.

Rigid inquiry into the affairs of Percy N. Gibbons, manager of the Pasadena branch of the Kerkhoff-Cuzner Lumber Company, is expected to definitely establish within a day or so whether or not his abrupt departure for Honduras is a matter for the attention of other authorities than those of the concern itself. The investigation and auditing of his books is now well under way but, aside from expressing surprise that a man in Gibbons' position should have left for Honduras so unceremoniously and that he should have had such an errand at all, the company officers decline to put themselves on record in the matter.

In the meantime Gibbons' family hold themselves strictly incommunicato at their residence, No. 417 Cypress avenue, Pasadena. All inquiries are met with the statement that they know nothing about the matter. That the manager has gone to Honduras and that he left in so great a hurry as to be unable to notify his employers by telephone or telegraph was the statement yesterday of his father-in-law, Sergeant Albert O. Bristol, of No. 591 Lincoln avenue, the oldest member of the Pasadena police force.

BRAD BUSINESS THERE.

"Percy has mining interests in Honduras," said Bristol. "I do not know exactly where they are or what they are, though I understand it is a gold proposition. He found some time ago that he would have to send some stuff down there and, at the last moment, he found that he would not be able to accompany the shipment. The boat was leaving immediately and there was no time to notify the lumber company officials or anybody else."

"What was the name of the boat?" was asked.

"I don't know her name," replied Bristol.

"What was the stuff he was taking?"

"I don't know. He didn't say. I understand it was some machinery or something like that."

"When do you expect him back?"

"Probably not for two or three months."

"Will he resume his position with the lumber company on his return?"

"I don't know—I don't think so."

"Do you think there was anything wrong?"

"I do not. I believe they will find everything straight when the books are audited."

"A member of our Pasadena branch will be carefully examined," said R. L. Cuzner, a member of the firm, yesterday.

"I cannot hazard a guess as to what the report will disclose until later in the week. I have heard that Gibbons has interests in mining ventures in Honduras. It seems somewhat strange for a salaried man to be purchasing mines and machinery. However, I don't want to say anything unjust about the man, as at present we lack information."

When asked if the matter would be taken today to the District Attorney, Cuzner replied that it was too early to state what would be done. He said the first thing was to go carefully over the books.

Gibbons is about 35 years old. He is well known in Pasadena and a prominent member of several fraternal and social organizations. His friends uniformly declare that there is nothing more to his abrupt departure than a sudden call of business admitting that this is, however, in the nature of a resignation from his management.

Mrs. Gibbons, who was Miss Alice Bristol, was married to Gibbons about twelve years ago. They have three children, Julia, aged 11; Naomi, 8, and Percy, Jr., 6. The only statement is what she will make is that she does not know where her husband is at present, but that everything is all right.

Gibbons was not under bond, but according to the officials of the company, this is the measure obviated by the system of frequent settlements with the main office.

Profusion of Palms Beautify All City's Churches.

Special Services Usher in Holy Week Programme.

All Denominations Join in Solemn Festival.

Palm Sunday, ushering in the impressive programme of Holy Week, was fittingly observed by both Catholic and Protestant churches yesterday. Although the day is more particularly an occasion of ceremony in the Catholic and Episcopal churches, congregations of other denominations observed it with special sermons, music and decorations.

The feature of the day to the thousands of eastern tourists who attended the various church services was the prodigal profusion of palm branches employed in the ceremony commemorating the palm-strewn entry of Christ into Jerusalem, nineteen centuries ago. Elsewhere, on account of the scarcity of palms, willow shoots were used yesterday but in Los Angeles a veritable forest of the graceful fronds made beautiful the houses of worship.

PROFUSION OF PALMS.

At the Catholic and Episcopal churches, priests, acolytes and cantors bore them aloft as they marched through the church aisles and outside the buildings. Sprays of palm were given the worshippers during and after these processions, to remind them of the day and of the beginning of Holy Week.

At St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Bishop Conaty presided at the morning service, the principal one of the day. At 10:30 o'clock the Bishop, accompanied by the arch-deacons, celebrants of the mass and acolytes blessed the bays of palm branches that were to be distributed. The procession moved through the aisles of the cathedral and out to the front of the church, where a special hymn was sung, and back again to the altar. Father Brady, sub-deacon, led, carrying the Bible, then Father Moran, sub-deacon, followed by an acolyte with the crucifix and others bearing the appropriate articles of the ritual, then Bishop Conaty and Mr. Barnes. All the procession those who attended were given palm branches at the altar rail.

Then followed a solemn high mass, during which "The Passion" was rendered by Bishop Conaty and Fathers Brady and Kirk. In the evening benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and vespers were sung the service being completed by the evening's instructor by Father Morris.

Bishop Johnson presided at Palm Sunday services in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. In the procession of palms, the priests and choir, walking through the aisles of the church singing appropriate hymns. The rite of confirmation was administered to a large class by Bishop Johnson. The decorations were elaborate, consisting of branches palm interwoven with flowers.

IN OTHER CHURCHES.

In the morning at St. Paul's, Dean McCormack presided upon the subject. "What to do When You Own Money," and Norman McPhail sang "The Palms." In the evening, Ernest Douglass gave an organ recital appropriate to the day, and Dudley Buck's cantata, "The Story of the Cross" was sung. Dr. McCormack preached upon "Masculine Sins."

At each of the other Catholic churches services similar to those observed at St. Vibiana's were attended by large congregations. At St. Vincent's church, "The Passion" was chanted and the special decorations made the altar beautiful. At St. Joseph's church the procession of palms was given and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament made up the entire day. At St. Mary's, Rev. J. J. L. of St. Thomas preached. At the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, Palm Sunday masses were said at 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock, with a children's mass at 8 o'clock. At St. Thomas' church, Father McManus blessed and distributed the palms. At St. Anne's, Rev. L. G. Morris preached and headed a palm procession with the pastor, Rev. T. C. Murphy. At other Episcopal churches like services were held.

Bishop Bell officiated at special Palm Sunday services at the First United Brethren church. A special week of grace was inaugurated. At the church of the Messiah, Palm Sunday music was sung, and the pastor, Rev. Stanley R. Fisher, preached on the subject, "Real Christian Unity." "Palm Branches" was the subject of the sermon by Dr. C. M. Carter at the First Baptist church. The First English Lutheran church had elaborate decorations of palms and flowers. Rev. Herbert W. Weaver, the pastor, preached upon subjects appropriate to Palm Sunday.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

After rather a lean week in the social world, there seemed to be a reaction of gaiety at the Los Angeles Country Club on Saturday evening, and dinner parties galore were set up.

One of the largest and happiest was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh, who had some three dozen friends to dine and make merry at the large round table, decked for the occasion like springtime in fairyland.

The feminine half of the guests, too, were attired in sympathetic loveliness, until it came quite a shock to find that they were mortal and well able to enjoy the choice viands with sanguine relish.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery McCarthy were entertaining a large party at another table and it was noted that Mrs. McCarthy was looking more radiantly homely than ever in her coming gown. J. J. Chancor was another host who was entertaining a select party of guests, and Mrs. Bonnell's party of nearly two dozen or so filled the other round table to its utmost capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis had a gay party of friends to dinner, and Mrs. C. E. Woodside entertained a few intimates. Still another table was occupied by the party brought down by B. F. Coons and several small tables were occupied in solitude a few feet away.

The orchestra, which had previously played during the afternoon for the bridge tea parties, of which there were several, remained for the evening and all the various dinner parties joined in a rollicking dance, while the members of the party proper were to the chef's gastronomic poems was over.

Yesterday also, the club was again socially alive, for Mrs. Gregory Perkins, Jr., was entertaining in a special party, for which special arrangements were considered necessary by the zealous Green.

And Green, you know, is something of a connoisseur, with his lifelong service in the butleries of the great.

British aristocracy, we are sure to feel that his approval of our hospitable efforts at the country club is something of a social hallmark. If we can pass Green, we can safely accept an invitation from royalty.

At Annandale.

The week end was also a busy one at the Annandale Country Club. The attractive musical tea on Saturday afternoon, has become a regular social rendezvous and Mrs. Newell and Miss Brooks were among those who were entertaining parties of friends.

In the evening any number of dinner parties held away, one of the most interesting being that given by Mr. Ormond of the visiting team.

British aristocracy, we are sure to feel that his approval of our hospitable efforts at the country club is something of a social hallmark. If we can pass Green, we can safely accept an invitation from royalty.

To Catch Capitalists Coming and the Labor Union Dynamites Going—Latest Journalistic Enterprise to Be Launched in Evening Field Here.

To finance a new afternoon paper in Los Angeles with money advanced by business men and retired capitalists, and then secure the support of the labor unions by promising to denounce the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association at every opportunity, is the alleged ambitious project of F. D. Rodman, a bachelor, who is a proponent of a radical newspaper.

The details of the new publication.

They said yesterday they had not heard that the policy of the paper was to be a radical one, nor that it would espouse the cause of the labor unions more zealously than any existing one.

In fact, they were surprised to learn that the paper which was to be founded ostensibly to promote non-partisan politics, and the interests of the city at large, was to be narrowed down to the interests of the working class, and that the paper would assail all the principles for which the majority of the local merchants and manufacturers have long and successfully fought.

"The paper came to me to suggest my putting some money into his proposed paper," said a capitalist, last night. "He knows my advocacy of the open shop and my support of the Merchant's and Manufacturers' Association. He told me that the time was ripe for an afternoon sheet that would represent the principles for which The Times has so long fought. I did not care to invest and have been riding more or less, but the paper will be promoted to the vacant position. It is not understood that there will be any more changes in the local Santa Fe offices as a result of the promotion of Phillips."

It is not understood that there will be any more changes in the local Santa Fe offices as a result of the promotion of Phillips.

To Catch Capitalists Coming and the Labor Union Dynamites Going—Latest Journalistic Enterprise to Be Launched in Evening Field Here.

To finance a new afternoon paper in Los Angeles with money advanced by business men and retired capitalists, and then secure the support of the labor unions by promising to denounce the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association at every opportunity, is the alleged ambitious project of F. D. Rodman, a bachelor, who is a proponent of a radical newspaper.

The details of the new publication.

They said yesterday they had not heard that the policy of the paper was to be a radical one, nor that it would espouse the cause of the labor unions more zealously than any existing one.

In fact, they were surprised to learn that the paper which was to be founded ostensibly to promote non-partisan politics, and the interests of the city at large, was to be narrowed down to the interests of the working class, and that the paper would assail all the principles for which the majority of the local merchants and manufacturers have long and successfully fought.

"The paper came to me to suggest my putting some money into his proposed paper," said a capitalist, last night. "He knows my advocacy of the open shop and my support of the Merchant's and Manufacturers' Association. He told me that the time was ripe for an afternoon sheet that would represent the principles for which The Times has so long fought. IN THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY

REV. BAKER P. LEE,
CHRIST'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
WE SCATTER THE BANCHES OF
OUR LOVE BEFORE THE FEET OF OUR KING.

APPROPRIATE to Palm Sunday was the subject chosen by Rev. Baker P. Lee in his sermon at Christ Episcopal Church yesterday. He took for his text, Zech. 9:9. "Rejoice greatly! Shout Hosannah! For Thy King cometh unto Thee," saying in part:

"Once again our old Mother, the Church, in counting over her rosary of the year, brings us to Palm Sunday. Today the hallelujah chorus resounds around the world from Cairo to the Klondike, from Boston to Bombay, from Los Angeles to Manila, the glad Te Deum of praise fills the world with the radiance of His love.

"Palm Sunday prefigures the history of civilization as Jesus Christ moves across the centuries and conquers. This is but the foreglimpse of that great day when all the Universe of God shall peal forth the grand hallelujah in the halls of eternity.

"The new woman—How Old Is She?" was the theme of the sermon by Dr. C. M. Carter at the First Baptist Church yesterday evening. His text was, "Who is this fair a virtuous woman for her price is far above rubies." He said in part:

"The new woman is an expression to denote the up-to-date woman. There are two types of the new woman: one is the virtuous woman, certainly not much loved by anyone; and the other, the woman with every grace the twentieth century can produce.

"The ideal woman of today is third-rate, not the ideal woman of century ago. The woman with the spinning wheel, making a living for her household while her husband makes a display of himself in public places, and invites friends home to dinner, is most assuredly not the ideal woman of today as she was in the long ago.

"The new woman as we meet her today is, however, a woman of affairs. She is a product of the later nineteenth century. Of the ideal woman of the Bible it was said: 'She weareth wool and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.'

"She is the modern wife; she brings with her modern ships; she brings with her modern ways.

"She arises while it is yet night and she labors and perdition, that I have secured heaven and am a child of the King, and still be silent."

"We have not met today to gaze upon forests of plumes upon the brows of brave warriors, nor squadrons of cavalry ready for the fray, nor upon the grim gray battleships drawn up in formidable array, nor are we here to count the millions of soldiers on the field of battle; but we have gathered to scatter the palm branches of our love before the feet of our conquering King.

"This is the most picturesque day in our Savior's life, no scene so exquisite and tender and yet so infinitely sad. The old prophet with the eye of prescience looks down the years and glimpses the actual fact as described in the New Testament.

GLORY OF THE PAST.

The mission pageant to be given for the visiting Shriners in Los Angeles, May 9, will reflect the glory of the long ago in a way to attract visitors by the tens of thousands. The early Franciscan friars were of a simple nobility which possesses a strong appeal for every Californian. The influence of these gentle, wise men will never quite be lost to the State. Los Angeles is still near enough the day of the early fathers to undertake a faithful representation of their order. Santa Barbara and San Diego will both contribute. The latter has more than twenty magnificent pieces to its mission float which it will bring to Los Angeles for the occasion at a cost of $5000.

ON TRIAL.

Every day the newspapers print accounts of unfortunate persons who have betrayed trusts and who find themselves embarrassed before the world by having to face the legal consequences of their misconduct. No day passes, however, that employees by the tens of thousands are not besieged by their employers for a better chance. All humanity is on trial, from the captain of industry to the office boy. The law of the world is to trust the trustworthy. As long as men are failing themselves in a thousand details their employers cannot become masters of fate to order or alter their destinies. The larger opportunity means nothing but confusion to the man whose constant study is not to increase his capacity and to demonstrate reliability. Let those who would be trusted begin by trusting themselves.

WAITING AT THE CHURCH.

What has happened to the masculine gallantry for which Los Angeles has become so justly famous? Here within twenty-four hours of each other we have two ought-to-be-eager bridegrooms keeping two wish-to-be-blushing brides waiting through anxious hours on the eve of the knot-tying ceremony. The one, while he indulged in a prolonged shave, hair-cut, shampoo, face massage and general beautifying in the barber's shop; the other, while he discussed the details of a business deal in an hour-long conversation over the long-distance wire. Yet at that moment no business could have been so vitally important to him as the one awaiting him in the church of the church. That in both cases the fair ones forgave their dilatory swains speaks volumes for the sunny dispositions of California brides.

PATRIARCH MINERS.

An interesting incident of the British coal strike is the volunteer brigade of 400 undergraduates of Oxford University who have pledged themselves to work in the mines or undertake any labor allotted to them in the interests of coal getting for the nation.

As the majority of these young men are the flower of the nation's manhood, the pledge naturally created something of a sensation. The young Prince of Wales goes to Oxford next term and is credited with just such daring yearnings.

Following Oxford's example, young gentlemen all over the country have been forming similar volunteer bands. Perhaps they have been called upon to make good, in which case we can only picture the rage of the strikers at these aristocratic "scabs." Oh, the peaceful picketing that will be there!

PROMISING VOLUME.

It is with genuine interest that Los Angeles residents are learning of the compilation by Miss L. T. Martin of a fine volume of memoirs which are the recollections of Miss Elizabeth Benton Fremont, daughter of the pathfinder, the late Gen. John C. Fremont. This narrative is at once a history and a romance, with a charm inseparable from a first-hand account of notable personalities and stirring political events. The story of Fremont's crossing of what was then the great American wilderness is vividly related, containing the spice of intimate details which probably have never before found way into print. Miss Martin is a New York woman of literary ability, who spent most of the year 1911 with Miss Fremont in preparation of the book which is being published by Frederick H. Hitchcock. It should prove a contribution to California history.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

There was a time in the first days of the city's larger development when much big business was transacted in quiet lunch rooms. Lately there seems to have been a revival of this practice which can be made both pleasant and profitable. Men are cheerful at meal time, trusting one another a little more over a cup of coffee and a cigar because understanding one another a little better. On such occasions they are a little less self-conscious and a little more tolerant of one another and of the city's general aims and needs. Something of the abstract quality of business pervades a lunch room and the good cheer of the hour lends initiative and courage to the viewpoint then taken. The physical relaxation of the hour makes for deliberation; the interchange of ideas then taking place stimulates the right sort of competition and adds atmosphere to zeal. Contact with business associates in a semi-social manner whets the appetite for the day's work. It is one instance in which business and pleasure may be combined with profit.

ILLIONS OF BRITISH WAGES LOST.

More than fifty thousand children are starving in England as one of the calamitous results of the coal strike there. These children belong not only to miners' families but to other workers who have been forced out of work, in a state of unpreparedness, by the miners' strike. The miners' unions have a membership of 730,000, but there are 1,899,500 union men of other trades affected.

The unions, as such, are seriously crippled in two ways—first by delayed payment of dues, so many of their members (500,000 on March 18) being out of work and unable to pay up; and secondly by the relief money going to as many of the 500,000 out of work as the funds will permit, after the army of union officials and labor agitators have drawn their fat salaries and their fat expense accounts. In all union-labor financing those salaries and expenses are always taken care of first. The British Gomperses are as keen on that as are the American Gomperses.

The British labor-union out-of-work list on March 18 was, chiefly:

Miners	1,100,000
Textile workers	80,000
Iron workers	165,000
Building	14,300
Railways	28,000
Glass workers	1,000
Pottery workers	40,000
Others	181,000
Total	1,800,000

By now, April 1, the total is at least 1,950,000, creating a loss in wages alone of $2,000,000 a day; a total of $73,000,000 for the twenty-six working days of March. Every dollar of that money has been wasted, and worse than wasted, to the idle workers and their families. In South Wales alone 225,000 men, including miners, are losing $2,000,000 wages each week the strike lasts.

British reports show that the labor unions there are weak financially because of the heavy drains made upon them by reason of the railway strike of August last, the cotton goods lockout recently in Lancashire, and the many labor disputes of last year. The miners' unions are better fixed for money, but all other unions find themselves badly caught by the increasing calls for relief money. In the principal unions, says the London Standard, one-fifth of the income goes for "expenses," average unemployment takes a third, and sickness, superannuation, funerals and other benefits take another eighth. So that the funds in the union treasuries are not the sum of the members' subscriptions by a very considerable margin. Still all that is better than what Gompers & Co. did in 1910, when they took in $193,000 of new wage money and only paid out $6484 for "strike benefits."

WHY ONLY THE WORM?

If the ghost of Isaac Walton should haunt the members of the Humanitarian League it will be no more than they deserve. Their latest bid for notoriety is to condemn the piscatorial art and all its charms as inhuman and vicious, and particularly that "diabolical and sinful custom of impaling live worms on hooks."

They frankly confess that their ultimate aim is to make fishing of all kinds illegal—so those of us that have a penchant for a juicy piece of grilled salmon au sauce Chateaubriand had best hurry up and make pigs of ourselves ever the dread law comes to pass.

But why this sudden championship of the worm? What about the poor little fly? Why does not the Humanitarian League get after the wicked fly-paper people? Many a time we have watched a poor helpless fly a slow hideous death, surrounded by the corpses of his luckless fellows, chained down by one leg and half a wing, left to starve in a frenzy of anguish. What about the rough-on-rats people? And those debased souls among us that gloat in unfeigned delight over the death agonies of a gopher?

And those poor, wee, green lice that cling so lovingly to our rose trees. Is there no one in all the world to take up the cause of these gentle, affectionate creatures, whose only sin is that they love our roses too well? But no, the league must needs turn its attention to the worm—the worm who, of all living creatures, can best encompass his own revenge. Full well we know that even as we write they are in full possession of all that remains of poor Isaac Walton. Fishermen have long ago realized that in cremation lay their only safety!

EXT QUEUE.

The wearing of queues originated in the seventeenth century. It was inflicted by the triumphant Manchus upon the Chinese as a badge of servitude. There had been a rebellion in the year 1644, in which Li had seized the throne. Gen. Wu Sankwei, with the Imperial army, was absent from Peking at the time. His father wrote him directing him to give his allegiance to Li. He was on his way to do so when he learned that a beautiful slave girl, Peking, of whom he was enamored, had been seized by Emperor Li and presented to one of Li's officers.

This changed the plans of Gen. Wu Sankwei. Instead of obeying his father and giving his allegiance to Li, he joined his forces to those of Dorgan, regent of Manchuria, and together they marched upon Peking. Li put Sankwei's father in the front of his forces and the aged man pleaded with his son to spare his life. But Sankwei was not just then a part of Sankwei's programme. He allowed his father to be murdered before his eyes. Then he fought Li's troops to a finish and conquered them. Li fled, stopping only to butcher all the family and relatives of Wu Sankwei and finishing by decapitating the beautiful slave girl. Gen. Wu Sankwei followed Li, overtook him, butchered him, subjected his corpse to indignities, and buried himself in grief and gloom. He abandoned his share of the victory won at Peking to his Manchu colleague, stipulating only that all Chinese should be compelled to wear queues as a badge of mourning for the beautiful slave girl.

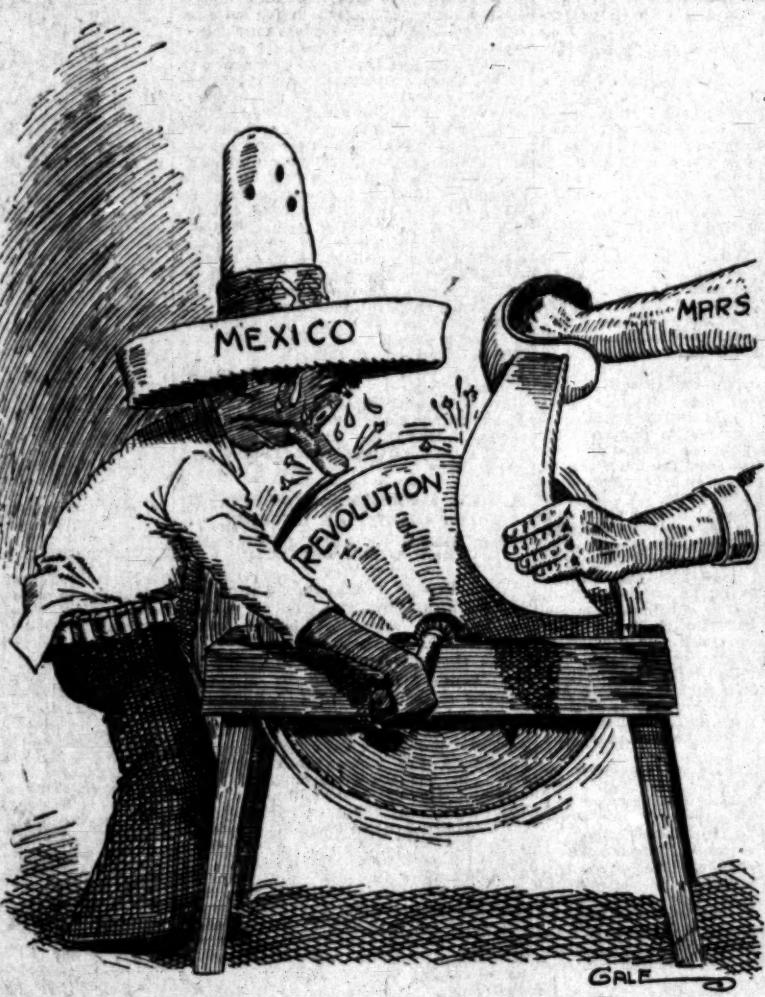

The queues came in with the Manchu dynasty and it seems not unfitting that they should accompany it into exile. The Chinese will cut off their queues as a sign of their emancipation from Manchurian rule, even as the horn thralls of Cedric the Saxon break their iron collars after the battle of Hastings.

How Long Will He Keep His Nose to the Grindstone?

SCIENCE PROGRESS.

From the number of searchers after a cancer cure there would appear reason to expect a satisfactory result by some one. A recent dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Prof. Von Stein of the Moscow University has had good success with the use of piroxalin, a derivative from gallic acid. Tests of the cure are, however, incomplete. The piroxalin is given the patient both internally and by subcutaneous injection.

From Paris it is also known the information that Dr. Saubers Dugers of that city has cured thirty-three cases of cancer of varying degrees of malignancy by the use of subcutaneous injections of colloid of copper hydrate peroxide introduced into the system at intervals varying from four days to a week. The effect is said to be to arrest promptly the further development of the growth and eventually cause the haecil which have an injurious influence on the body to disappear.

Whether a case of cancer is recent and has never been operated upon or whether it is of old standing and has been ineffectually treated several times, Dr. Dugers declares his treatment will effect a cure so long as the patient is not actually dying. The colloid of copper compound is not poisonous, he declares, and injections can be given almost without pain by any qualified physician. As a rule there is no reaction, general or local, after them, and the treatment, which he calls "decancerization," can be proceeded with very slowly if necessary.

Trade, "the calm health of nations," will signal the regeneration of China. We will bring in her silk, her teas and her pigtailed. We will send her our flour, our canned corn beef and—after election—our insurgent Republican politicians. Maybe Roosevelt might be induced to go over there and take charge of the new republic, with Gompers as Secretary of Labor, Tammie as Secretary of War, Pinchot as Secretary of the Treasury, and pedomene-waiting Johnson to hold permanently the office of Secretary of the Exterior.

BARRY LYNDON DOWN TO DATE.

The trial of Count Wolf-Metternich in Berlin has disclosed the existence of a most distinguished band of card sharps, including a few German barons and any number of colonels and captains. It all reads just like a page from Thackeray's "Barry Lyndon."

There was a most exciting time in court when the count (who is a member of one of the noblest families in Germany) wished to demonstrate that he could win as much as he liked from the judge at roulette or not without cheating. A pack of cards was fetched and the count proceeded to give an example of his skill—and he certainly succeeded in winning a mythical $500 from the judge (who rather prided himself on his proficiency in the game) in five minutes.

Some time ago Secretary of State Alvaro Ades received a somewhat curious postcard from Brazil. Mr. Ades is a chemist and anything the rock, found two minute larvae. This astonished Mr. Ades. He sent the animal to the Agricultural Department for further scientific investigation. Under treatment the larvae promptly developed into magnificent mosquitoes.

As the larvae were found in the interior of the rock, and Smithsonian Institution experts regard the age of the earth as anything from $6,000,000 to $200,000,000 years, the minimum figure has been adopted as the probable age of the Brazilian mosquitoes.

The striking variations in animals and plants of apparently the same species are perplexing problems in genetics. Among examples brought to notice at the London Royal Institution by Prof. Batson are grasshoppers that live together, eating the same food, but have in one form a brilliant scarlet wing, and in another a brilliant blue one. The "ghost moth" differs only in Shetland from its companions in the other British Isles. East of a line from Glasgow to the Adriatic is the black crow and west of it the hooded crow, with an intermediate form between but the cause of their difference is a mystery.

Even more perplexing is the fact that birds of exactly the same species appear in Northern India and in Ceylon, with only birds of a slightly different species intervening.

The tree sparrow and the house sparrow have different markings, but only the coloration distinguishes between the one kind and the female of the other.

Certain male birds found in America mount in one's heart to excuse the villainies of the plant world are similar, and nobody knows, for instance, why the Huntingdon elm.

Looking over the clubs in the league I can not see any club that will strengthen any more than my club, as we started last season with top over pitcher in shape it hurt our club. But this season it will be different as we will have some new great slope mites my new first baseman John and Halligan pitcher. Return outfielder who we bought from Northwest will strengthen the club as much that one of the clubs will have any thing as good as us.

BY WINNIE CUTTER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SANTA MARIA (Cal.) March 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the "warm-up" bell clangs at Washington Park for the Beavers' turn at practice next Tuesday afternoon, a squad of six twirlers will take the field. Almost to a man the club is in the best of shape. It is to be that Harkness' shoulder will not be just right but that Artie Krueger will hobbles a bit from a newly-sprung "Charley Horse," but in the main, the team is in right condition to do battle as a champion team should.

Eight new faces will appear in the squad and perhaps a few words of introduction may well be in order. Of these eight, four are pitchers.

First comes John Gilligan, 6 feet tall, weighing 185 pounds, 27 years of age. John is single and was born in Lacota, Mich. He is a right-hander with plenty of speed, good curves, change of pace and control. He is of the heady type of twirler.

Next comes Harry Steiger, who was

BEAVERS EN ROUTE TO LOS ANGELES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SANTA MARIA, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Beavers left for Los Angeles on the 4 o'clock train, a large crowd of Santa Marians being on hand to bid the champs farewell and to urge them on toward the winning of another pennant.

Doc Schmieder, the trainer, stated before leaving that the squad was in the best of condition, and that each man is ready to do his best.

The team's farewell appearance before a fair sized crowd at Thornburg Park showed their right to be called the champs by romping away with the local team by a score of 12 to 6.

Henderson, Gilligan and Lamline, pitchers for the Beavers, and Koestner, Steiger and Temple were loaned to the locals. All six twirlers showed themselves to be in grand shape for the opening of the season.

ANGEL'S PLAYERS HURT: ON EVE OF NEW SEASON.

BY GREY OLIVER.

"OUR team don't look as good to me now as it did yesterday morning," murmured Dillon last night, "and this accident to Howard is the cause of it."

Just when we seemed to be ready and everything was going along nicely Howard has his hand split in the last practice game of the training season. Boles, Brooks and McRae have sore hands or wrists, but none of these are serious and undoubtedly all of them will be ready to play tomorrow.

"We are to have our final practice Monday morning and at that time Boles will be tried at shortstop. He is said to be a good infielder and he will have a chance to show it Monday. Smith has a cracked rib which will keep him out of the game for several days and Brooks will have to catch the opener."

If Boles does not show much at short I will have to use young Bigando. He is good on ground balls and can throw well to first but is shy on hitting. All of the pitchers are in good shape.

The baseball for the first game today will be Leland, Brooks and McRae.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON

OUND the tocsin, bang the cymbal, blow the B-flat cornet, honk the claxon, shout the blank cartridge and put it in the want ads—Bill Desmond is coming home.

The hero of Main street is expected to arrive, from two years of Australian triumphs, about September 1. He will appear at either the Burbank or Belasco Theater in his regal, old-time capacity of leading man.

It seems safer to predict a Belasco appearance for Bill, since that Belasco has no regular leading man, while at the Burbank Forrest Stanhope will fill up more delegates, week by week, than that Taft second-term boom.

Bill has just finished an extended engagement at His Majesty's Theater, Melbourne, in "Alas! Jimmy Valentine."

"The best actor who ever visited Australia," says one enthusiastic critic.

David Hartford, according to schedule, will leave for New York City next Sunday.

The Burbank stage director will remain in the metropolis a month, as the representative of the Morosco-Blackwood corporation, looking at the new plays.

According to schedule—but it seems as though the Hartford schedule was due to be busted, for the "Squaw Man" will undoubtedly proceed into a second week.

And David plays the Sheriff.

Claudia Rogers, a rare jewel and the most popular Harry James' company at the Lyceum, has received from a cousin, or something like that, a pair of wonderful blue opal earrings, from India.

The blue opals, a rare jewel, and these are very old and rare specimens of the jewelry. With the light shining on them, they are of a milky, cloudy azure; against the light, they are like ovals of luminous sky, each containing a drop of luminous campagne.

In his previous engagement we planned Claudia's. We apologize.

But you deserved it, Claudia, you deserved it!

For May Boley is Neverending under extreme difficulty. One of the current grippe complaints has left her with a throat so sore that she can scarcely talk, and she can't eat.

Though she has no voice, she still retains her girlish laughter.

But if she doesn't eat soon, they will be handing her Bob Lett's part.

An actress in this city has sued her husband for divorce, on grounds of criminal extravagance.

In the heat of a domestic argument, he threw a pound of butter at her.

The tragedy and criminality lie in the fact that his aim was bad; he missed her, and the butter fell into the stove.

Texas Guinan, in "The Henpecks," will introduce the newest song of Irving Berlin, never-to-be-forgotten author of "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

The new piece is a query of timeliness, evidently directed at the type of show-girl who never leaves New York.

"How Do You Do It, Mabel, on Twenty Dollars a Week?"

Reassurance note: the song doesn't tell how Mabel does it, so there is no real cause for alarm.

Low Palmore, a juggler at the Empire this week, claims distinction through several remarkable feats in his line.

First, he has learned to balance his cash-book.

Second, in a restaurant, once upon a time, he hypnotized a Salome pudding so that it remained perfectly motionless for eleven seconds.

Third—also in a restaurant—he demonstrated the bounding qualities of derby hats.

As he made his exit, it bounded from the hook where the owner had placed it to Palmore's head.

Dorothy Maynard, the Fountain-Pay in the production of "The Spring Maid," invited the Bachelors Club of Salt Lake City to attend his show.

The invitation was accepted by the club as a whole.

Sixty laid aside 200 seats.

The entire club came out to do honor to the occasion.

Eleven of the 200 seats were occupied.

Hurrah for the Mormon Cupid!

Mme. Chambellan, who is to make her debut in the Belasco Company, has pleased Andrew Dippel to such an extent that he has signed a desire to engage her for next year's Chicago-Philadelphia opera.

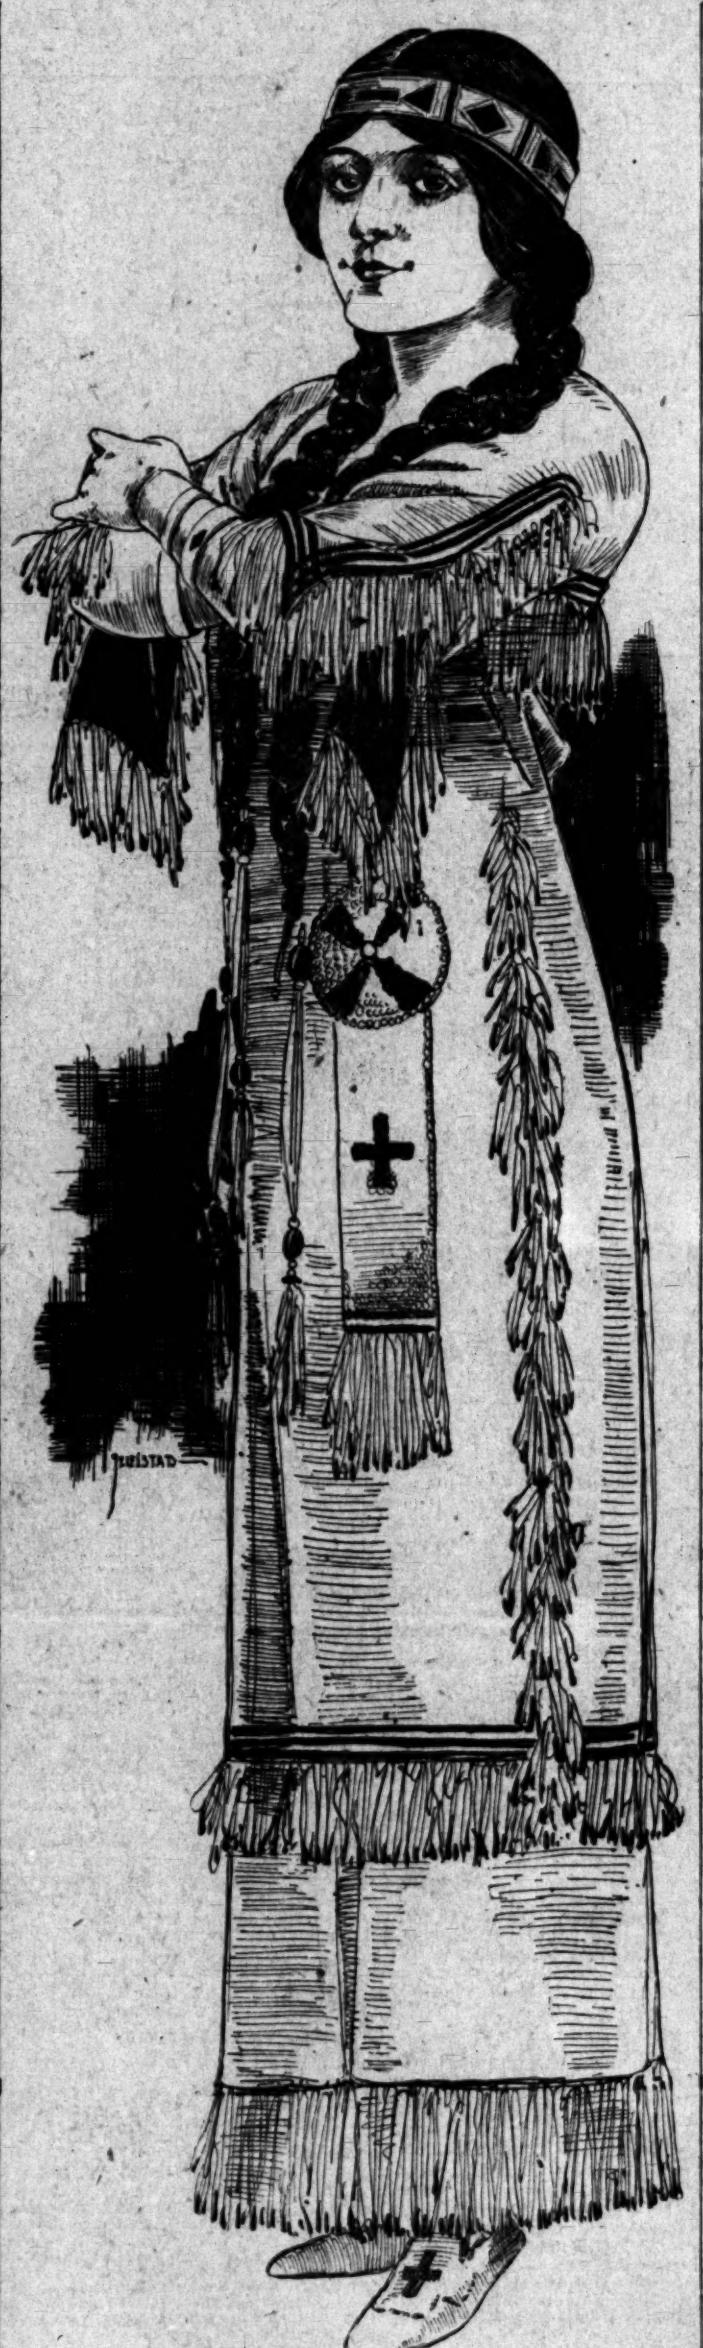

Dipel had a special hearing of Mme. Chambellan last Friday afternoon.

Accomplishment item: Melvin Hartnett speaks French. He is the official translator for Chambellan about the local theater.

Clarence Drown says he can remember when Julius Tannen, monologist, was the most popular of the current Orpheum hill, was private secretary to J. Ogden Armour, the Chicago beef baron.

At that time Tannen simply couldn't make his living as a comedian, and after a series of ten or twelve hours in the Armour offices, would appear among his friends at the Chicago Athletic Club and perpetrate the same sort of entertaining stories that he now gets paid real money—and a lot of it, too—for handing over the footlights.

A week later—on Monday, April

Lola May.

Who scored a success of almost sensational dimensions as Nat-U-Ritch, in yesterday's Burbank revival of "The Squaw Man." This is Miss May's best part here, and she invests it with great force of character, simplicity and unaffected pathos.

2929—Lewis S. Stone is scheduled to return to the Belasco stage and will be seen in "The Squaw Man."

There ought to be some doings in the vicinity of the Belasco the latter part of this month, eh? What?

Now that James O'Shea has successfully broken into limelight mention in this department, Treasures Ervast of the Burbank and Clayton of the Belasco are effusively polite to the critical fraternity, and aisle seat signs are daily proffered as a swap for favorable mention.

Noth'n' stirrin'.

The theater goers of the city who frequent the Burbank—and particularly those who have had the Burbank for several years—will be more than ordinarily pleased with the announcement that John Burton is to play his old role in David Harum as soon as The Squaw Man is through with the Burbank stage.

Real Advice.

WHY TY COBB IS BASE RUNNER.

Takes Advantage of Every Chance to Advance.

Tries Every Minute to Reach the Base Just Beyond.

Does Not Pay Any Attention to the Coachers.

Ty Cobb, whose ability as a batter and a base runner gives him a certain authority to exploit his views, has distinct ideas of his own as to how a player should conduct himself while running around the sacks.

"My theory of baseball is to keep the opposing team on the defensive," says the Georgia Peach. "When I am on the bases I try all the time to get as near the home plate as possible. I overlook no chance. It's keeping the eyes and thoughts on the sack ahead that enables one to score runs. I believe in taking every chance in reason to advance on the bases. To my mind, base running is a simple problem. Every man has his own way of sliding. He can seldom improve on that. But the fielders meet with a different kind of play on the runner almost every ball that's pitched or thrown. So the chances are in favor of the runner as against the fielder. That's why I always afford to take chances. There's always the possibility of the fielder dropping a throw, mousing up a fly or throwing poorly."

"I have made it a rule to go as far as I can while running bases. I have been lucky in this respect. I never pay any attention to the coaches, because I believe that a man's base should run his own race."

It is not Ty Cobb, with the willow, he stands up to the plate nicely and drives the ball hard when he meets

STEWART GAS SAVER.

Great Demand for This Peculiar Mixer Which Halliwell Brothers Handle.

The Halliwell brothers report an unusual demand for the sale of the Stewart gas saver, of which they are exclusive agents, and say that in almost every case it will increase power and will give generally improved efficiency. It is a device that is clamped between the carburetor and the manifold. The control quadrant is clamped to the steering column and connected to the steerer by a cable and wire.

According to W. H. Halliwell, with the carburetor on the machine designed for all possible power, the mixture will be too rich for economy on level roads, but with the use of the Stewart, air can be admitted to great advantage whenever the load is light.

Dan Halliwell, the youngest of the twins, having been born at Huron, Mich., twenty-two years ago. He stands 6 feet tall and weighs 165 pounds, and is a right-hander. A bewildering change of pace is Fred's best.

Dan Halliwell, catcher and comedian, comes next. Dan was born at East Weymouth, twenty-two years ago. He stands 6 feet tall and weighs 165 pounds. Halliwell seems to have all the earmarks of a fine roisteron. His throws are fast and accurate and he seems to have the ability to get the best of effort out of the pitchers.

TRUNK LINE HIGHWAYS.

A bill providing for three trunk highways through Mississippi has been introduced into the State Legislature. The roads will radiate from the capital, to the various sections of the state. The bill proposes that the roads are to be modified after the most improved plan to be submitted by the Federal government. This measure is the result of the activity of owners of motor cars in the opposition to the bill.

"It is to be expected that the greater part of the year, motorists are limited to the city streets of Jackson, due to the impossibility of the roads in the rural districts. The bill will come to vote early in this month, and it is expected that little opposition will be offered.

MERIDIAN ROAD.

A road from Winnipeg to Galveston, Tex., is the Meridian Road, to be known as the Meridian Road, is receiving serious attention on the part of Galveston (Texas) motor car owners. The city has been prompted by a letter from the Water-towm Automobile Club, of the South Dakota Association. It is requested that Galveston motorists notify the organization in Texas, which would be best suited to the proposed road, and that immediate steps be taken to make the meridian highway a reality.

Long stretches of gravelled road already built can be used in portions of Texas and Oklahoma. A tour from Galveston north over the route is being suggested for the early spring.

ANOTHER BIG RACE.

Thirty-four square miles of floor space in one hotel is what visitors to the second annual 500-mile international speedway will find at Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The entire city is being formed into a monster hotel to care for the 100,000 visitors expected to witness the world's greatest motor contest, and the world's greatest motor private and racing rite, good scores under any conditions, and particularly under their handicap.

There will be a pistol shot, with six shots in a nickel slot for the gun, distance 200 yards, pool to the first bulls-eye. The winner secured one of the nickels, a smooth one.

The scores:

G. T. Kellner	10	10	10
R. J. Doane	10	10	10
John Siefer	10	10	10
John Doane	10	10	10

Call of McGroarty Match on Account of the Condition of His Hands.

ANOTHER NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middleweight, called off his match with Eddie McGroarty today and left for his home tonight. The so-called middleweight championship tomorrow, now in progress here and in Los Angeles, thus becomes inconclusive.

"My hands are bad," said Klaus, "and my doctor advised me to give them a good rest. I am being followed by a doctor in my right hand and another in my left. We have fought two twenty-round bouts with it recently. If McGroarty will make the middleweight limit, I will fight him in May."

HALLIWELL FINDS NEW ROAD TO BAKERSFIELD.

W. H. HALLIWELL and his brother, C. E. Halliwell, with a party of friends made the trip up to Elizabeth Lake by way of the Bouquet Canyon road a few weeks ago. This is a highway recently constructed and cuts out the San Francisco Canyon, making a much better route to the lake. According to C. E. Halliwell, the new road is about three miles longer than the San Francisco, but much shorter than the Mint Canyon. He considers it a much better road than either of these, as the grades are easier and there are not so many streams to ford. This means to road to Bakersfield.

"To reach the new canyon road," says Halliwell, "the regular country highway is followed over the San Fernando road, out through the Newhall tunnel and on to Saugus. Just beyond the town the road turns in three directions, one to the left, which leads to Santa Barbara, one to the extreme right to Soledad and Mint canyon, and the third between these two, leads to the San Francisco Canyon. The latter is followed to Aqueduct Camp No. 9 and turning to the right you leave the main road and through the gate and follow this road through the hills. It brings you out on the road which runs from Palm Springs to Elizabeth Lake. Despite the rainy weather we had no difficulty in getting over the new road."

SURE TO COME.Immigration Difficulties in
... Immediate Proximity.David Starr Jordan Studies
New-born Problem.California Wants Only Best of the Newcomers.

Declaring that the disposal of the immigrants who will find their way to California with the opening of the Panama Canal will be one of the vital problems for this State and that the study of the comparatively new science of eugenics will aid in the solution, Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, yesterday briefly outlined some of his ideas on the subject.

Dr. Jordan arrived at the home of his friend, W. A. Spalding, No. 134 North Gates street, in the afternoon, visited Pasadena, saw the newspaper men, made several calls and prepared the outlines of several lectures he is to give this week. He has the facility of the new motor engine in swerving from one line of thought to another without loss of power.

Excusing himself from a family dinner party, Dr. Jordan entered the living-room brushing a few crumbs from his coat sleeve and when asked a question plunged into the subject. He is a believer in bringing immigrants of the better class here and illustrated his belief by telling a little story.

He said that one day while climbing up a steep hillside in Mendocino he was met by a ranchman who invited him to have a glass of milk. The farmer talked about his crops and the weather and finally, carefully unwrapping a card, showed with great pride the senior marks of his stud in Standard.

JOYNS THE CREAM.

"Add I let him talk from his big fatherly heart while I drank the cream," said Dr. Jordan reminiscingly. "The farmer was of Dalmatian stock. His son is a credit to the unity."

We have nothing to fear from the settlers who come to our country from Northern Europe; it is, as a rule, Nor is there much use in excepting any one nationality. The peasants from the northern part of Italy are as a general thing, more desirable than those from the southern, but one cannot even here make any arbitrary statement."

Dr. Jordan said that perhaps, after all, the only test is that of time. He believes the immigrants who come will and have a sense of farm frugality is a characteristic of most European peasants and in this State there are limitless opportunities.

HARD TO DISASSOCIATE.

"But as to the control of a flood— who can say how it is to be done?" said Dr. Jordan with an expressive wave of his hand. "There are some principles who decide excellent farmers and others who do not. There are the individual traits of character to be considered. One can talk about keeping out undesirable characters. A criminal does not always leave his mark on his face and complexion, poverty and disease often breed violation of our laws. I am told that the general average of immigrants is deteriorating yet I have no way of verifying this statement. But it is true that the suns, sunlight is a great enemy to bacteria in the body and mind."

Eugenics, which is a branch of biology, is taught at Stanford. Dr. Jordan believes it has a great future influence in determining the better posterity, but he is wondering how its laws are to be enforced.

"And while paralytics are not desirable, better 1000 of them than one cripple should be born in this country is not ready for State legislation. Education comes first. Nor can this science invade the province of the legislator. It can suggest; it can furnish information. But a lot must be left to time."

FULL SCHEDULE.

Today Dr. Jordan is to address the Women's City Club at the Victorian star at noon and two other bodies; tomorrow and Wednesday he will speak at Redlands, San Bernardino and Riverside. Thursday evening he will be guest of honor at a meeting of the Los Angeles branch of the National Society. Saturday, Friday, he jumps to San Diego and Saturday noon addresses the City Club. In the afternoon he will speak under the auspices of the Academy of Science at Redlands. But, and the evening attend the annual banquet of the Stanford alumnus. If there is any other spare time he will fill it to advantage.

Brightness of Immigrants.

[Christian Science Monitor] The teachers in whose classes are occasionally placed boys or girls from abroad who have just landed in America are often astonished at the rapidity with which they acquire the English language. As a rule those who excel are the ones who have some instruction in their own country. The English boy of eight years was put in the third grade of the George Croft school in the South end one Wednesday morning. He did not know a single word of English and could not even give his name so that it could be recorded. By noon on Friday, Miss Emerson, who he could read through the sixteenth page of the primer and could say the words correctly when the teacher pointed to them at random.

Galicia is the name of a boy, 12 years old, who was born in New York on Thursday arrived in Boston on Friday and appeared at the Dearborn school in Roxbury on Monday. At noon he was teaching the boys in the school the Polish names of the objects around them and was soon in the afternoon pronouncing words in a perfect button. By Wednesday night he could talk glibly in the language of his adopted country and could say as far as the "five times" table up to ten.

idle, enjoyed by the matinee-folk, rendered human or punk by innumerable players.

So now, to the people working for Moroso, who make the things real this time.

First of all there is May. Theoretically, of course, we can't suppose that Nat-U-Ritch was half as lovely as Lola May. Nat-U-Ritch would have been thick-lipped, heavily-hipped, hampered, whereas Lola May, well, she isn't, of course. Not even the hundredth part-of-an-inch of ochre conceals the supine and slim-ankled Lola; but, notwithstanding the fact that she is some sort of prima donna, this time Lola May gets the pity, the pathos, of this poor savage out of you. I really feel sorry for her—and I couldn't feel sorry for a girl as Lola May, as vitally youthful as Lola May, in the picture of Picture of Dorian Grey, the character comedian, Leo Welch, the Empress will this week have two headline attractions, both of which have previously headlined themselves all over the country, but which are brought together on this bill.The second and last week of the presentation of the *Mme.
